NEED VOLUNTEERS

UNITED STATES MUST HAVE MORE SOLDIERS.

OTIS WILL REQUIRE 30,000.

ONLY 24,000 REGULARS ARE AVAILABLE.

ALGER TALKS OF VOLUNTEERS

NOT LESS THAN 10,000 MEN WILL BE CALLED.

Washington, June 1.—Replying to the inquiries of the secretary of war, General Otis telegraphs "that he is still of the opinion that 30,000 troops will be necessary for the effective control of the Philippines."

Secretary Alger took General Otis' cable to the president and after a conference with him stated that the text of the dispatch would not be made public, as it contained other matters besides an answer to his inquiry of yesterday.

"It re-affirms General Otis' estimate made some time ago," said the secretary, "that 30,000 men would be sufficient to cope with the situation. As I stated yesterday, the regulass now under way or under orders to go to the Philippines will give General Otis about 24,000 or 25,000 men, after the withdrawal of the volunteers."

"Where will the additional 5,000 or 6,000 men for whom General Otis asks come from?" the secretary was asked.

"That has not been definitely determined as yet," he replied. "We may be able to take the additional troops asked for from the regulars now located in this country, Cuba and Porto Rico, or it may be found advisable to muster in volunteers."

"In case it is decided to call for volunteers will the call be for the 5,000 or 6,000 men necessary to bring General Otis' total up to the 30,000?"

"If volunters are called for," replied the secretary, "the call will probably be for 10,000 men."

MAY NEED VOLUNTEERS.

Washington, June 1.—A phase of the army situation that is receiving considerable attention from those interested in the artillery arm of the service is the increasing shortage of men to care for the constantly increasing number of guns in the coast defenses. The question, indeed, may have considerable bearing on the question of whether a call for volunteers will be necessary. There are not enough artillery men, it is claimed, to take care of the modern guns already installed in the coast defense. It is pointed out by those familiar with the situation that the guns themselves are suffering for the want of attention. The emplacements for the modern heavy guns are built with mathematical accuracy. In the big coast guns the whole problem is worked out by mathematics, and if the gun and its foundations deteriorate all the fine work in their original construction goes for nothing.

LAWTON IN COMMAND.

Manila, June 1.—5:05 p. m.—General Lawton has been given command of the defenses of the city and troops forming the line around Manila, which will be his division. General MacArthur commands the outlying garrisons and the troops holding the railroad and river.

INSURGENTS PUNISHED.

Washington, June 1.—The war department has received the following dispatch from General Otis at Manila dated June 1st:

"Smith reports from Negros that he has punished insurgents who murdered Captain Tilley; that the eastern coast of island now under American flag, and inhabitants ask protection against robber bands; the bands pursued into mountains by us and native troops severely punished."

KILLED BY VICIOUS HORSE.

Chicago, June 1.—John Lind, a coal dealer, living at 3118 Princeton avenue, and his 4-months-old son, Raymond, were attacked by a vicious horse in a barn at the rear of 3153 Princeton avenue. The child was trampled to death and Lind received fatal injuries. Lind, carrying the babe in his arms, entered the stall occupied by the horse and the father and child, biting and kicking savagely. Lind was felled to the barn floor by a kick in the head from one of the horse's hoofs, which rendered him unconscious. The child fell from its father's arms and rolled under the hoofs of the animal to be trampled into a shapeless mass. It was with difficulty that the corpse of the child and the unconscious body of Lind were rescued from the stall. Lind is now at the hospital with a fracture of the skull, a broken jaw and the ribs broken.

COLORED LEADER DEAD.

Oberlin, Ohio, June 1.—Henry Lee is dead at his home here from injuries received on Decoration day. Mr. Lee was one of the most prominent colored men in Ohio, and was the originator of the appeal to the foreign powers against the treatment of the colored people in the south. He was educated in Oberlin college and was a man of unusual intellect.

FATE OF CAPTAIN DREYFUS

MAY BE MADE KNOWN BY THE COURT TOMORROW.

Argument for Revision Concluded and President Announces an Early Decision.

Paris, June 1.—The court of cassation at noon today resumed hearing the arguments in the application for a revision of the Dreyfus case. The same audience as on previous days of the hearing was present, but the rest of the palace of justice was deserted. Maitre Mornard, counsel for Madame Dreyfus, resumed his speech. He reviewed the facts in favor of Dreyfus. Counsel expects to close his speech today.

Maitre Moran's speech was largely a rethreshing of straw already thoroughly threshed out by M. Ballot de Beaupre and M. Manau. At the conclusion of M. Morand's speech the president of the court announced that sentence would be delivered at one of the approaching sessions of the court. It is generally surmised that this means sentence will be delivered on Saturday, at the opening of the sitting of the court.

STRIKE WILL BE SETTLED.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 1.—The freight handlers' strike, which originated at the Lehigh freight house yesterday and spread to other freight houses, threatening to involve two thousand men, has been checked by negotiations between the leaders of the Freight Handlers' union on one side and the contractors and representatives of the interested railroads on the other. Indications are that a settlement will be reached today. No freight handlers, house or dock men, reported at the Erie freight dock today. No work was done at the Northern or Lehigh. At the Central no dock men presented themselves. The house men, numbering one hundred and fifty, reported. Fifty or sixty of them were put to work. The others were told there was no work for them at present. At the Lackawanna ninety house men were at work. No work was going on at the dock at that hour. At the Anchor Line freight a full complement of freight handlers, house and dock men were working.

ELKS WILL GO IN FORCE.

This morning the Fort Wayne lodge of Elks closed a contract for a special train over the Lake Erie railroad to Muncie next Tuesday to attend the street carnival in that city. About one hundred members of the local lodge will go and will be accompanied by the City band. They leave this city at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning, returning at 1 o'clock the following morning.

REFUSED THE REQUEST.

The Mormon elders who have been holding meetings in this city cannot use the school houses of Wayne township in which to preach their doctrines. This is the ruling of Township Trustee Schmetzer. The Mormons applied to the trustee this week for permission to hold meetings in the school buildings, and the trustee replied, "As long as I can breathe and keep good common sense I'll say no to you." One meeting had been held before the trustee was aware of it, and he promptly put a stop to the use of the buildings for this purpose.

Judge E. C. Vaughn, of the Bluffton-Blackford circuit court, was in the city today visiting the Allen county courts. The judge has been ailing for months, but is now much improved [illegible] is rain at-

GREET MARCHAND.

HERO OF FASHODA REACHES FRENCH CAPITOL.

PARIS POPULACE GOES WILD.

THE PEOPLE IN A FRENZY OF ENTHUSIASM.

IS THE IDOL OF THE HOUR.

THE CROWDS WERE DIFFICULT TO CONTROL.

Paris, June 1.—The civil and military authorities and a big crowd of people went to the railroad station at Lyons at 1 o'clock this morning to welcome Major Marchand, the African explorer, on his way to Paris from Toulon. A great concourse began assembling around the depot here on the Lyons-Paris railroad at an early hour today. Members of the League of Patriots arrived in waggonettes decorated with garlands and flags.

A tremendous shout of "Vive Marchand" announced the arrival of the popular idol's train at 9:10 a. m.

A victoria was sent by the minister of marine, M. Lockroy, to convey the major to the ministry of marine, where a lunch was given in his honor.

The carriage was literally covered with flowers and had a tri-color flag at each corner, while the coachman's whip was tied with tri-color ribbons.

Major Marchand and the representative of the minister of marine, Lieutenant Darriens, entered the vehicle, which, on emerging from the railroad station, was greeted with storms of cheering. All present, with the exception of the officers and non-commissioned officers on the sidewalk, uncovered their heads as the explorer passed. The military men saluted in military fashion.

Delirious enthusiasm marked every step of Marchand's progress along the boulevard Dideret, to the Henri Quatre bridge. On either step of the carriage stood a policeman, who kept the explorer's frantic admirers from entering the vehicle.

The Marchand procession, in which were several carriages conveying non-commissioned comrades and officers sent to greet the explorer, proceeded along the quays to the Boulevard St. Germain, headed by a detachment of horse guards. There was frantic enthusiasm along the entire route. The crowds, in spite of the efforts of the police, broke into the procession, cut off Marchand's carriage from the others and surrounded it cheering and waving hats and sticks.

The procession arrived at the Place de La Concorde at a walking pace and stopped in front of the ministry of marine, where Marchand entered. The other carriages finally arrived with Captain Baratier, Dr. Emily, Ensign Dye and the other members of the expedition.

The crowd noticed there was no flag hanging from the ministry of marine and shouted for one, whereupon the occupants of a house opposite threw a flag to the crowd. The police, however, seized it and prevented the flag form being attached to the ministry building after some hard scuffling.

The minister of marine and Major Marchand then appeared on the balcony and the other members of the expedition followed, formed a group and repeatedly bowed to the spectators, who acclaimed them until they were hoarse. The Place de La Concorde was black with people and the houses on the Avenue de L'Opera, at the corner of which the military club is situated, and the adjacent streets were decorated with flags.

An enormous crowd gathered in front of the military club and cheered for the army. The interior of the club was decorated with trophies of flags, flowers, etc.

Squads of municipal guards, mounted and on foot, eventually cleared the Avenue de L'Opera and diverted all traffic from it.

Marchand and his companions then lunched at the ministry of marine, a number of generals and admirals being among the guests.

The explorers will be received by President Loubet at the Elysee palace at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

After lunching at the ministry of marine and listening to congratulatory speeches, Marchand received from the minister of the colonies, M. Guillain, a medal commemorative of the expedition.

A delegation from the military newspapers then presented the explorer with a sword of honor, after which Major Marchand, accompanied by the minister of marine and crowds along the route cheered the army, the marine minister and Marchand.

Immense throngs of people surrounded the palace and shouts of "down with Panama," caused the arrest of a number of those who gave vent to their feelings in that manner.

STATE COMMITTEE RULES ON REGULARITY.

Columbus, O., June 1.—The republican state convention will meet here this afternoon at 4 o'clock under the temporary organization that has been selected by the state central committee. Previous to the first session it was expected that the selecting of committees would precipitate a warm contest in the Cleveland district, owing to the fight between the Hanna and McKisson factions.

The platform caused little discussion as the delegates seemed to be for the renomination of McKinley for president, for the endorsement of his administration and for the usual other party declarations.

The following temporary organization had been agreed upon before the delegates convened:

Chairman, Congressman W. S. Kerr, of Mansfield; Secretary, Hon. E. L. Lampion, of Ashtabula; Sergeant-at-arms, Frederick Bader, of Cincinnati; Assistant, S. N. Field, of Columbus; Chaplain, Rev. S. S. Palmer, of Columbus.

After the keynote speech of Chairman Kerr, the congressional districts will be called for reports of their respective members of the different committees that were selected at the district meetings earlier in the afternoon.

Owing to the intense feeling over the contested delegations from seven counties, the state central committee attempted to decide today what constituted cause for a contest. The committee decided at least in the case of Hamilton county what did not constitute cause for contest, by ruling that contests would be decided on the party law as expounded in the call of this year and not on the calls for state conventions in former years.

This seats the Cox delegation in the temporary organization and gives it full representation for the first and second congressional districts on all the committees.

The action of the state committee showed an alliance of the field against Nash, that the Daugherty, Cox and Kurtz forces were pulling together on the selection of members of the committee on credentials and in other preliminary work.

This would imply the seating of Holcomb delegates from Cleveland against both the Hanna and McKisson delegations, and it eliminates Mayor McKisson not only from this convention, but also from the old combine with Kurtz, Bushnell and others.

When it comes to balloting for governor the action of the state committee will also have its effect, but the extent of its final influence can not be predicted.

Senator Foraker created a sensation today by declarations which indicated to the delegates that he was opposing Senator Hanna. When the members of the large McKisson delegation arrived at noon they serenaded Senator Foraker at the Southern hotel, the headquarters of the anti-Hanna and anti-Nash men. The senator said he joined them in putting on his fighting clothes and closed his speech thus:

"We are on the eve of a great political battle and Ohio is to play a most important part in this battle, and I say to you that she must be right. This convention is a most important one and if we are to have right and prestige with us we must let the people of our party have a voice in our councils. I say here and now that I believe you men to be loyal, legal representatives of your party and I hope to see you seated in the convention."

Hon. H. M. Daugherty was serenaded and made a speech which some interpreted in connection with the speech of Senator Foraker as indicating that the field was showing defiance to Senator Hanna and Judge Nash. Mr. Daugherty said in closing:

"I have no quarrel wit' any man within or without the republican party—unless he should forget by mistake that it is within the province of the people to make the candidate for governor."

SILVER MEN AT A BANQUET.

A LOUISVILLE CLUB HONORS JUDGE TARVIN.

Festivities Lasted Until Nearly Daylight—William J. Bryan Was One of the Orators.

Louisville, Ky., June 1.—The banquet of the Young Men's Democratic club, given last night in honor of Judge James H. Tarvin, did not come to an end until nearly 3 o'clock this morning. The toasts were not reached until after midnight and the 300 guests would apparently have been willing to remain until daylight had not W. J. Bryan's departure on a 3 o'clock train compelled an adjournment.

Mr. Bryan responded to the toast, "The Democratic Party." In his speech he touched on the Chicago platform in his usual strain, saying it was written for all time and not for one campaign, and that more votes would be lost by changing it than would result if left as it is.

Following Mr. Bryan, Charles K. Wheeler, of Kentucky, responded to "The American Army and Navy." He extolled the militarism of America, but subordinated its power to that of the civilian.

After Mr. Wheeler, Judge Sterling B. Toney, of Louisville, paid a magnificent tribute to "The Uncrowned Queens of America, and Their Power in Politics."

Mr. Murray, of Kentucky, responded to the toast, "Shall We Retain the Philippines as a Part of Our Permanent Possessions?"

Following Mr. Murray, ex-Governor Altgeld, of Illinois, responded to the toast, "Government and Municipal Ownership of Public Franchise." He said: "The question of the present age is that of municipal and government ownership of public franchises. This question marks the next forward step of humanity."

Following Mr. Altgeld Hon. George Fred Williams, of Massachusetts, responded to "The Money of the Constitution."

MAY BE A FAILURE

WORK OF PEACE CONGRESS IS NOT PROMISING.

DISAGREE ON VITAL POINTS.

AMERICAN MEDIATION SCHEME IS ADOPTED.

DUM-DUM BULLET PROHIBITED

CONVICTION OF FAILURE IS GROWING.

The Hague, June 1.—The American mediation scheme was unanimously adopted at yesterday's sitting of the sub-committee, which embodied as article seven, the scheme prepared by the sub-committee, with few alterations.

The first commission, by a vote of 18 to 3, has adopted a resolution prohibiting the use of "dum-bum," or flattened bullets.

Italy, Austria and Great Britain formed the minority.

It was also resolved to prohibit the use of explosives from balloons and explosive bullets.

An agreement was found to be impossible on all the important proposals and the conviction is growing more than ever that the work of the first commission is doomed to failure.

A PRETTY WEDDING.

A charming wedding ceremony occurred yesterday morning at the Cathedral when John B. Parnin and Miss Clara Lordier were united in marriage. A number of friends and relations of the couple were present at the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Father Durham. The bride was charmingly gowned in white taffeta silk, trimmed with pearl passementerie, and wore a wreath and veil and carried a shower bouquet of white sweet peas. The groomsman was Michael Lordier, brother of the bride, and the bridesmaid was Miss Emma Parnin, a sister of the groom. The bridesmaid wore a gown of blue taffeta silk, trimmed with white embroideried taffeta, and carried a handsome bouquet of pink sweet peas. After the ceremony the happy couple held a reception at the home of the parents of the bride, 37 Baker street, and an elaborate wedding dinner was served to the guests They received many beautiful and costly presents. Mr. and Mrs. Parnin will be at home to their friends in their new residence at 31 Baker street after June 15th.

DANGEROUSLY INJURED.

George Bieberstein was severely injured at the Fremion & Vollmer bottling works yesterday afternoon. He was standing on the lower floor watching some men who were handling a barrel when the fastenings broke and the barrel fell, striking him with great force on the forehead. He was rendered insensible by the blow and the men in the factory summoned the patrol wagon in which he was conveyed to the St. Joseph hospital. Dr. Rosenthal examined the injury and found that the orbital bone had been fractured. He removed many fine splinters of bone and set the bridge of the nose, which had also been broken. While the injury is very serious it is thought that he will recover.

TELEPHONE CABLES.

An underground cable is being laid on the east side of the city by the Home Telephone company, and will be completed soon. It will not only take in the entire present service on that side of the city, but contains enough wires to provide for many additional 'phones without disturbing the cable. About 5,000 feet of cable is to be placed east of Calhoun street, and as soon as it is finished work will be commenced on the west and north sides, where about 15,000 feet will be required.

SILVELA URGES REFORMS.

Madrid, June 1.—Premier Silvela, addressing a meeting of the majority of the senators and deputies today, urged the necessity of radical reforms, which he believed would be realized without recourse to a dictatorship. In the course of his remarks the premier said that if his program for rehabilitation failed the country would fall under a dictatorship, which, he added, would be productive of the [illegible] of [illegible] Ohio, [illegible]

The divorce evil seems to grow with every year. 7,500 divorces were granted in the State of Ohio last year We agree that there are faults on both sides, but the great problem is: Are those faults remediable? To a great extent there is no doubt the conditions which result in divorce may be remedied Given a dyspeptic husband and a wife suffering from female trouble and we have the ready made elements of a divorce case In view of the facts there can be very little doubt that many women look forward to divorce only because they seek relief from obligations they do not feel fitted to fulfill. Women are not to blame. They have looked forward to their home life as a dream of paradise. Then disease comes like a serpent and destroys all happiness

Women who suffer with debilitating drains, inflammation ulceration, female trouble and bearing down pains, will find certain relief and cure in Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription It so invigorates the organs peculiarly feminine and regulates their functions that they are established in a perfectly healthy condition. The old lightness of heart comes back; there's light in the eyes and a smile on the lips. The old irritation and nervousness are gone, and the husband comes to his home as a haven of rest and comfort.

"I was troubled with female weakness, and after taking three bottles of Dr Pierce's Favorite Prescription I am free from pains," writes Mrs May E Jones, 529 Madison Ave, Ypsilanti, Mich "I had suffered for two years when I began taking your medicine I could not walk across my room without suffering dreadful pains. NOTES OF THE GAME.

No games were played in the Western league.

Rain prevented the game at Dayton between the Mud Hens and "Old Soldiers."

The Winners have defeated the Madison Street Stars by scores of 24 to 23, 17 to 16 and 7 to 4.

The East End Stars won from the Clay Hills by a score of 26 to 23. Batteries—Niever and Doeheman; Violand and Pothoff.

Where is Peck Sharpe, anyhow? A thorough search of the records of games played in every league has failed to locate the comedian of base ball.

Carrick appears to be doing most of the twirling for the New Yorks. He was in the box yesterday and gave the Cincinnatis a hard run for the game.

The Lillies won from the Ponies by a score of 12 to 6. Batteries—Lillies, Snider, Kopp and Waas; Ponies—Doyle, Bender and Kniffens. Cyril Poiry is captain of the Lillies.

McKenna pitched great ball for Baltimore and Powell has another defeat marked to his credit. O'Connor caught Powell and Johnny missed Criger's fine work.

Decoration day the East Wayne Street Blues defeated the Canal Streets in one of the best played amateur games of the season, the score being 2 to 0. Lauer pitched very effectively. The game was won in the ninth when Hilker hit for a home run with a man on base. Batteries—Lauer and Roux, for East Wayne Streets; Swayne and Dick for Canal Streets. Hits—Blues, 5; Canal Streets, 4. Errors—Blues, 1; Canal Streets, 4. Umpire—Scott Miller.

"Chick" Stahl made the batting record of the season yesterday. In six times at bat he lined out six singles. At present the Fort Wayne boy is batting better than any player in the league.

Admiral Dewey while a resident of Washington was an almost daily attendant at the ball games and already arrangements are being made to make his visits to the ball park hereafter very pleasant.

Artie Ball, who could not be located by the Fort Wayne management, is playing shortstop for the Rock Island Western association team and Fort Wayne "fans" do not now regret his refusal to come here.

Ed. Herr has written to George Reiman that he has not recovered from the effects of the severe attack of fever, and does not believe that he will be able to play any ball this season. A report is circulating that his condition is critical. With big Ed. on the rubber the Fort Wayne twirling staff would have been greatly strengthened, but there are now plenty of good twirlers on the pay-roll and they should be able to pitch winning ball.

WIND STORM STRIKES CITY

SEVERE BLOW IN FORT WAYNE THIS MORNING.

Wind Attained a High Velocity and Ruined Many Trees—Other Damage Slight.

Early this morning Fort Wayne experienced a wind-storm of more than usual severity, accompanied by a dashing rain. The storm was of but short duration, but the wind attained a high velocity and many handsome fruit and shade trees in its path were badly damaged. The storm approached from the southwest shortly before 6 o'clock, and as it neared the city seemed to divide and was most severe in the eastern and western sections of the city.

No severe damage is reported to buildings from any quarter, though a number of signs along Calhoun street were blown to the ground. Large numbers of fruit trees, particularly cherries, are reported damaged in the eastern and northern parts of the city, and the loss from this source will doubtless amount to considerable.

SAM BRISCOE'S PONY SHOW.

Sam Briscoe and his trained ponies and dogs are in the city and have located their tent north of the base ball ground. An entertainment was given last evening and quite a large crowd was present, composed mostly of young folks. The work of the animals is very clever and they display almost human inteligence in the performance of their acts. Professor Bradocks and his trained dogs especially delighted the children. Professor Wood's trained ponies did several wonderful tricks. The feature of the evening's performance was the high dive by the pony "Lehigh." This tiny pony is drawen up to a staging twenty-five feet high by a pair of horses and makes a wonderful dive into a tank 10x12 feet and seems to enjoy it immensely. The performance this afternoon began at 2 o'clock and in the evening will begin at 8 o'clock.

Indianapolis, June 1.—(Special).—Sixty-two counties of the state in reports to the state superintendent of public instruction show a marked decrease in their school enumeration. The total enumeration so far is 730,218. Last year it was 754,945. Grant, Pulaski and Vermillion counties have not yet reported.

WILL GET THEIR MONEY.

This morning Captain Ranke, Captain Meyer and Captain Reese received from Adjutant General Gore the rolls upon which to make out the claims of the volunteer soldiers for the money retained by the state for the militia uniforms worn by them during the war with Spain. At the time of their muster out of the service the state held amounts from the pay of the soldiers covering the cost of the uniforms, and the matter was the occasion of considerable sarcastic comment. However, the legislature appropriated the sum of $40,000 to reimburse the Indiana men, and after the claims are properly certified they will be paid. The amount due the boys of the battery alone is about $1,200.

MAY SELL THE GAZETTE.

There has been no changes made by the receiver in the working force of the Gazette. The Sentinel learned this morning that there were prospects that the paper might be sold within a few days. Messrs. Dougall and Randall, it is understood, are willing to take possession as soon as the court can give them a clear title to the property. Other parties are discussing the advisability of purchasing, but there will be no delay in the sale if an agreement can be reached with the court as to a title.

POLICEMEN WILL EXCURT.

The committee appointed by the policemen to arrange for their third annual excursion, held a meeting last evening and organized by electing Captain Daseler chairman; Clerk Langard, secretary, and Sergeant Harkenrider, treasurer. The committee decided to again visit Rome City, although it had been hoped that proper accommodations could be secured for a trip to Warsaw. The date fixed for the excursion is June 29th. Music will be arranged for and attractions for the day will be running races between Officers Goeglein and Strodel, a swimming match between Mayor Scherer and Clerk Langard, and a sparring match between Lieutenant Lapp and Clerk Schmidt in the evening. There will be no talking match, as Bobby Dickson will remain at home on duty, and Frank Cheviron is the only other officer qualified to enter.

LOCAL NEWS.

Paul Wilstach, agent of the Richard Mansfield company, is in the city.

Judge E. C. Vaughn, of Bluffton, is in the city today, en route to La Grange to visit his father, who is very ill.

The case of W. L. and Emma Benedict vs. the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago railway was dismissed in the superior court this afternoon, a settlement between the parties having been reached without trial.

In the decree of divorce granted to Mrs. Joseph Sunderland on her cross-complaint, the court issued an order permitting her to resume her maiden name, Etta Perrin. In her cross-complaint Mrs. Sunderland charged her husband with adultery.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Godown, of Indianapolis, have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Mary Dewar, and Harry Clark McLaughlin, which will occur at the home of the bride's parents at 8 p. m., Wednesday evening, June 14. Miss Godown is well known in Fort Wayne, where for a number of years she was an instructress in the Westminster seminary. Years ago Mr. J. P. Godown was city clerk of Fort Wayne. Clark Fairbank is an uncle of the bride-to-be.

Another New Element.

Three French chemists—M. and Mme. Curie and M. Bemont—have discovered a new metallic element, which they call "radium," because of its remarkable property of emitting rays which resemble in their penetrative power Prof. Roentgen's celebrated X rays. Not long ago much surprise was caused by the discovery that uranium is capable of emitting similar rays, but the power of radium in this respect is said to be 900 times greater than that of uranium.

Physician's Experience.

A curious experience is related by a physician of Meudon, France. To examine the throat of one of his children, he held a lighted candle before its mouth and placed the handle of a spoon on the base of the tongue, when there was a sudden flash of blue flame from the throat, and the doctor's mustache and the child's lips were slightly burned. It is explained that the spoon probably produced a slight retching, which brought a little inflammable gas from the stomach.

Vests of Paper.

There is a new rival to the chamois skin vests so long worn by women for extra warmth. Those who have worn them pronounce them less bulky, just as warm and less expensive than the chamois. They are so cheap, indeed, that they can be thrown away and a new one purchased without troubling the conscience of the woman with only a moderate purse.

High Altitudes and Health.

Scientific journals are bestowing great praise upon a book by Prof. A. L. Herrara of Mexico, which recently won the Hodgkins prize of the Smithsonian Institution. Prof. Herrara treats of the effects of high altitudes on life, particularly as illustrated by the valley of Mexico, whose elevation is 7,350 feet above sea level. He upsets some old notions, and shows that residence at a high altitude and "baths of rarefied air" conduce to health and longevity, especially in the case of tuberculosis.

DEATH OF AN OLD CITIZEN.

FREDERICK C. ZOLLINGER IS CALLED HOME.

Long a Resident of Allen County—Death of Mrs. Heine—Other Mortuary Matters.

Frederick Zollinger, a widely known and highly esteemed citizen of this county, died last evening at his home in Marion township, at the age of sixty-three years. Mr. Zollinger has been in failing health for some time. His illness dates from a severe attack of la grippe with which he was stricken before the holidays, and he was never able to recover any strength.

For more than fifty years Mr. Zollinger has been a resident of Allen county and was always identfied with its substantial citizenship. He was born in Weisbaden, Nassau, Germany, and was the son of Christian Zollinger. The family came to America in 1848 and settled on the farm in Marion township which was purchased by his father, and later passed into the hands of the subject of this sketch. Since his arrival in America Mr. Zollinger's home has been constantly within the borders of Allen county. Most of his life has been devoted to farming, though he was for a time engaged in the turning and sawmill business, an industry which had come down to him through two generations of his family—both his father and grandfather having been turners.

Mr. Zollinger was united in marriage to Miss Catherine Kellinger, and to them were born fourteen children, all of whom, together with the widow, survive him. Of the children Charles B. is a boilermaker at Springfield, Ill; four remain at home on the farm, and all the others reside in this city. Louis Zollinger, the carriage manufacturer, is a brother of the deceased, as was also Col. C. A. Zollinger, formerly mayor of Fort Wayne, and Henry C. Zollinger, who was trustee of Adams township.

Mr. Zollinger was a staunch democrat politically, and while he did not permit himself to be drawn actively into politics, he was at all times deeply interested in public questions. At the solicitation of friends he was once a candidate for trustee of Marion township, was successful in the election and filled the office most capably. He was in all respects a worthy and substantial citizen, whose death will be deeply deplored.

The funeral services will be held at 1:30 o'clock from the residence, and at 2:30 from Zschoche's church. Rev. Stock will officiate.

HEINE.

Mrs. Mary C. Heine, (nee Grage,) wife of Henry W. G. Heine, died this morning at her home, 141 Wallace street, from ulceration of the stomach, at the age of forty-two years, six months and twenty-nine days. The husband, a daughter, Miss May C., her aged parents and three sisters survive her. The sisters are Mrs. Will Neumeyer, of Prospect, Ohio; Mrs. Charles Neumeyer, and Miss Emma Grage, of this city. The husband is a boilermaker at the Pittsburg shops. The funeral arrangements have not been completed.

BESSON.

At 4 o'clock this morning Ralph B. Besson, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Besson, died at the family home, 22 Summit street, from rheumatism of the heart. The little one was seven years of age. The funeral will probably be held Saturday from the Cathedral.

No. 3 Aveline House,

DR. JOHN I. MANNERS.

This is the gentleman who is entitled to all the credit for the numerous cures that are being effected at the British Medical Institute.

A staff of eminent physicians and surgeons from the British Medical Institute have, at the urgent solicitation of a large number of patients under their treatment in this city, established a permanent branch of the Institute in this city in the Fruit House block, rooms 6 and 7.

These eminent gentlemen have decided to give their services entirely free for three months (medicine excepted) to all invalids who call upon them for treatment between now and July 1st. These services consist not only of consultation, examination and advice, but also of all minor surgical operations.

The object in pursuing this course is to become rapidly and personally acquainted with the sick and afflicted, and under no conditions will any charge whatever be made for any services rendered for three months, to all who call before July 1st. Therefore, the most humble in circumstances can avail themselves of the services of these eminent physicians.

The doctors treat all forms of disease and deformities, and guarantee a cure in every case they undertake. At the first interview a thorough examination is made and, if incurable, you are frankly and kindly told so, also advised against spending your money for useless treatment.

Male and female weakness, catarrh and catarrhal deafness, also rupture and all diseases of the rectum are positively cured by their new treatment.

Decoy Prices.

The absurdly low prices for dental work that are sometimes advertised are not for real prices. They are decoys and their object is to entice the unwary within the "shooting" range of the advertiser's suave arguments. Almost the first thing that will be told you about these less than fair prices, is that they "are not for the kind of work that you want."

SATISFACTION BOUQUET.

The use of invigorating perfumes is essential to our welfare, health and happiness.

It is well known that bad air and foul odors cause malaria, which produces epidemic and other fevers, sickness, disease and death itself, while refreshing and stimulating perfumes always invigorate the system, promote health, and tend to ward off disease.

Health has been known to be almost immediately restored to invalids (when life and death seemed to have about equal chances) upon the accidental introduction into the room of some refreshing perfume.

The use of perfumes has the high sanction of scriptural authority.

"Among the nations of antiquity an offering of perfume was regarded as a token of the most profound respect and homage," and was more highly prized than gifts of jewels and precious stones.

"The patrons of perfumery have always been considered the most civilized and refined people of the earth." As the eye and ear must receive culture to fully enjoy the harmony of colors and melody of sound, so must the olfactory nerves be educated to enjoy exquisite and delightful perfumes to the greatest extent. Those who have thus tutored their olfactory nerves are more sensitive to, and more readily detect, the presence of unwholesome air and foul emanations around them, and thus are led to avoid the danger by observing the warning given at this "gate of the lungs."

Packard

has never been made.

There are faults of one kind or another in every piano that was ever built.

We claim for the Packard Piano that it is just as well made as we know how, that we use the utmost care in the selection of material, that we employ only the best workmen, that we give all our time and thought and energy to getting into it just as much piano goodness as possible.

We could make a piano for less money than the Packard costs, but we won't. No piano can be made to sell at less than the price of the Packard and be as good. No piano made to sell at any price can be better than the Packard

You can see and hear it at our store.

The anti-Hanna faction of the Ohio republicans is much like a pugilist who goes out of his class to get a licking and a reputation. The big boss solved the hardest proposition of his life when he was elected United States senator and all the others are easy.

The capture by rebel Filipinos of two American officers who were enjoying a little pleasure cruise in Manila bay is not the kind of advertisement that will boom that place as a summer resort.

No more paper money will be sent to the Philippine islands. The islands are inhabited by a variety of ants that have keen appetites for everything in the paper line and they devour paper money whenever it is within reach. The ants compel the use of gold and silver in the Philippines.

It would be entirely consistent with the French character for having very great disturbances over trifles if it should turn out that the bordereau upon which Dreyfus was convicted was in all respects the hoax that M. Manau has hinted it to be. To make the situation in that regard emphatic it should be remembered that that unspeakable villain Esterhazy is its probable author.

There is a national interest in the Ohio republican convention which met in Columbus today. It is not possible to define with any distinctness all the factions there contending, but they are numerous. Of course, the one thing clear is that there is to be a fight on Senator Hanna and that the several small factions united in this laudable purpose can give the Cleveland man a rattling game for awhile. Hanna has a candidate for governor, and that, of course, concentrates against him all the other candidates for the gubernatorial nomination. Then there are Kurtz and McKisson, who hate Hanna with a cordiality that is something thicker than mere sentiment, while "Golden Rule" Jones, the man who can get all the votes in Toledo and Lucas county for anything he wants, is there with at least a suppositious boom for governor and a well understood purpose to flail the administration faction for its war on him in his mayoralty fight in Toledo. Senator Foraker is rather unplaced by the fact of a nominal armistice between himself and Hanna. But it is a devil's truce. It will be an interesting situation to watch, that at Columbus.

NORTHERN INDIANA NOTES.

Fire destroyed the hub and spoke factory owned by James O'Neal, at Redkey.

Mr. and Mrs. William Houser, of Huntington county, have celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.

John Woodward, who was for forty years a resident of Wells county, is dead at Bluffton. He was born in Ohio in 1828.

Chalmer Allman, a seven-year-old Huntington lad, swallowed a tin whistle, which lodged in his throat and baffled efforts of surgeons to remove it.

George Spice, of Huntington, stopped a runaway horse and attempted to drive the animal to its home. A second runaway resulted, in which Mr. Spice was thrown out and badly hurt.

After three publications the Churubusco Evening Truth announces to its readers that the paper will be discontinued. A canvass of the town will be made and if enough patrons can be secured the Evening Truth will reappear June 5th.

A scholarship has been endowed at Notre Dame university by Dr. Edward Johnson, a retired merchant of Waterloo, Wis. The scholarship will bear his name. This is the second scholarship that has been endowed at Notre Dame this year, the other being the gift of the late Rev. Thomas Carroll, of Oil City, Pa.

E. S. Blocker, an engineer on the Chicago and Erie railroad, and living in Huntington, is under arrest charged with an attempt to criminally assault Meta Windemuth, a twelve-year-old girl of Huntington. He was released under bond of $500. He induced the child to go buggy riding with him, when it is alleged he attempted the assault.

The Studebaker Bros. Manufacturing company, of South Bend, has closed contracts for the constructon of automobiles aggregating in cost $1,000,000. New York and Boston capitalists are interested in the deal. In order to supply this new demand immense additions will be immediately erected. The cost of the new departments will be $400,000.

Rudolph Bentz, a prosperous Adams county farmer living about six miles east of the Toll-gate school house, killed himself. He was in comfortable circumstances and no reason can be imagined why he committed the deed. Mr. Bentz is not the Rudolph Bentz, who formerly lived in Bluffton, but has been a farmer just across the Adams county line for many years. Wednesday morning, after feeding his cattle, Mr. Bentz secured a small target gun that was kept in the house. He placed the muzzle to his heart and punched at the trigger with a piece of pine shingle until he discharged the ball. He died almost instantly in spite of the fact that the gun was only a 22-calibre.

IN NEW JERSEY, OF COURSE.

FIRST DECISION IN FAVOR OF A TRUST.

Supreme Court of That State Upholds a Combination for the Restraint of Trade.

New York, June 1.—The New Jersey supreme court has rendered a decision, said to be the first in the country, in favor of a trust.

The decision was given in the suit of the New York Trap Rock company against Brown and Fleming.

About two years ago there was a brisk competition between the rival firms and owners of quarries and a trust was formed. Several of the quarries were closed and prices were advanced.

A part of the agreement was that only the agent of the trust was to sell the stone and a penalty of $5,000 was prescribed for violating this clause of the contract.

There was some dissatisfaction and Brown and Fleming accepted an order for a large quantity of stone. The trust demanded the penalty of $5,000, but the firm refused to pay the forfeit and decided to oppose the trust.

The company instituted suit for the amount of the penalty. Brown and Fleming filed a demurrer, setting forth that by the declaration of the plaintiff the company admitted it was a trust, that it was an illegal combination formed for the purpose of destroying competition and to control the prices of trap rock.

The supreme court has given a decision overruling the demurrer.

The court holds that a contract that a single person shall be employed as the sole agent of the manufacturers to sell all their output does not violate any principle of law and may be enforced. It was a decision of the entire court and was a surprise to many lawyers, as the coal combine had been dissolved by Chancellor McGill a few years ago for the same reasons that were advanced in the demurrer.

The four democratic justices voted against the demurrer.

MAKES HIM A MILLIONAIRE.

Victoria, B. C., June 1.—By the allowance of the appeal in the case of Hobbs vs. the Esquimault and Nanimo Railway company by the supreme court of Canada, E. V. Hobbs, a second-hand dealer of Douglass street, in this city, becomes a millionaire. His victory entitles him to the ownership of what is known as the East Wellington extension mine. Several years ago Hobbs bought 160 acres of land comprised in the Esquimault and Nanimo railroad grant. The purchase was made without reservation, but when the deed was completed, the company included reservation of all coal and other minerals. Hobbs refused to accept this and also refused the return of his purchase money, suing for specific performance of contract. The highest tribunal of Canada has now granted the suit, thereby affirming Hobbs' right to the vast coal deposits that are being worked beneath his property.

FATHER CRAWLEY PROMOTED.

It was learned today that Rev. Patrick J. Crawley, assistant pastor of St. Patrick's church, would be transferred from this city to Lebanon, Ind. Rev. Crawley will leave on Saturday to assume his charge. The Lebanon parish is a large and flourishing pastorate, and in recognition of the abilities of Father Crawley, he has been appointed to the post by Very Rev. John Guendling, vicar general of the Fort Wayne diocese. Father Crawley has been assistant pastor of St. Patrick's church for two years and is spoken of by Father Delaney in the highest terms. He has always been a zealous worker and is very popular among his parishioners. Father Crawley carries the good will of the members of the congregation with him to his new charge. It is not yet known who will succeed Father Crawley in this city.

BIG ZINC LAND DEAL.

St. Louis, Mo., June 1.—A special to the Republic from Aurora, Mo., says:

Colly & Co., bankers of Boston, for the sum of $500,000 have purchased eighty acres of land with three zinc mines thereon, belonging to S. H. Miner, of Aurora; A. H. Rogers, of Joplin, and Judge Leo Bassiur, of St. Louis, in addition to 458 acres of undeveloped land belonging to M. L. Flourney, of Aurora. This is one of the largest deals of the kind made in this district, which is sixty miles east of Joplin. The Tuttle mine included in this transaction is acknowledged to be the largest zinc mine in the world.

FATHER BYRNE WILL LEAVE.

Father Byrne will leave for his new field of labor in Union City on Friday. The committeee which was appointed on Monday evening to wait upon Father Guendling, the administrator of the Fort Wayne diocese, held a conference with him last evening and presented the request of the members of the congregation that Father Byrne be retained in Fort Wayne. Father Guendling stated that the transfer was a promotion and that the Union City charge was one that needed a man with the energy and ability of Father Byrne, and also that the decision was final and could not be revoked. A large number of the congregation of the church awaited the report of the committee in Library hall, and when the report was made there were many expressions of sorrow that the order could not be rescinded. Father Byrne is very popular with the parishioners as is attested by the strong effort to retain him.

DEATH OF MRS. REDFOX.

The deceased was seventy-six years old. The funeral will take place at Chicago tomorrow. You Can Tell
By The Ring

An honest dollar from a counterfeit. A cracked bell makes a noise, but it does not peal out a harmony of perfection. There is that same difference in stores and in advertising and in merchandising. The brass band methods and big wordy announcements that are raising such a din nowadays cannot drown the plain statement of facts that our honest stock makes possible. The flashing of a string of sensational prices will not tempt a thoughtful clothing buyer. He wants value at a fair price. It is an easy matter for us to win in any comparison that is made, because we offer nothing that is not reliable and everything that is.

All the energy we have is turned to selling

The Best Clothing

That can be produced and at the least possible cost to you.

We have been doing it for nearly 15 years. We have no distracting departments We have no divided interests. We have no worries except in the line of cloths, and cutting, and creating, and costs--all for Clothing. Every care of our organization is centered on the Clothing idea alone.

THAT BIG RUSSIAN RAILROAD.

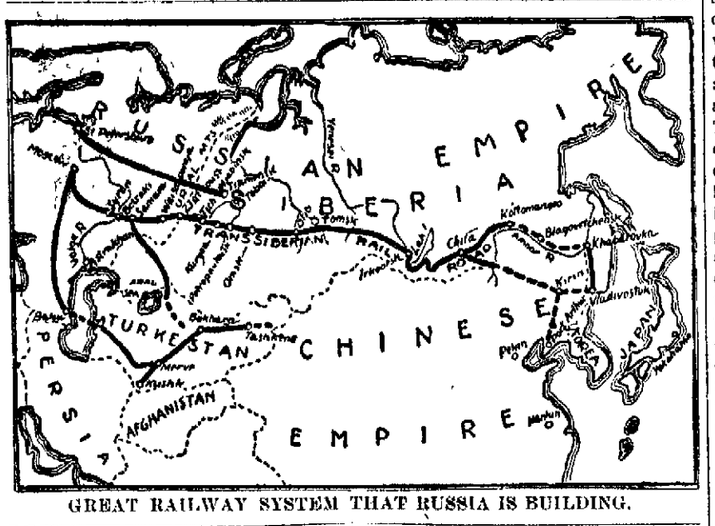
RUSSIA'S BIG ROAD.

GREAT TRANS-SIBERIAN RAILWAY SYSTEM.

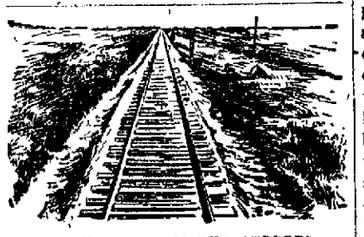
When the Czar's Stupendnous Project Is Completed Our Pacific Coast May Become More Important than the Atlantic.

The Russian minister of railroads is quoted in recent St. Petersburg dispatches as saying that there is no longer doubt that the trans Siberian road will be finished next year and that when it is completed it will be possible to make the trip around the world in thirty three days. In this same dispatch Bremen is taken for the European starting point, for the reason that it is reached by steamer from New York; thence the route indicated is from Bremen to St. Petersburg in one and a half days; St. Petersburg to Vladivostock, ten days; Vladivostock to San Francisco by steamer, four and one-half days; San Francisco to Chicago, three and one-half days; Chicago to New York, one day; New York to Bremen, seven days.

Should this longest railroad in the world be completed next year it will have been nine years in course of construction. The preliminary plan of its construction was outlined by the late Emperor Alexander III. of Russia in his rescript addressed in May, 1891, to the Czarowitz. Surveys were made for portions of this continuous trans-Siberian road in 1887-88. Designed to begin at Chelabinsk, near the boundary between European and Asiatic Russia, it was to end in Vladivostock on the Pacific ocean and, together with the system of Russian railroads, was destined for connecting the Baltic Sea with the Pacific. For the sake of facility of construction it was divided into seven lines under the following names, respectively: The Western Siberian Railroad, 885 miles; the Central Siberian, 1,149 miles; the Baikal Loop Line, 195 miles; the Trans-Baikal Railroad, 689 miles; the Amoor, 1,111 miles; the North Oussouri, 227 miles, and the South Oussouri, 252 miles. So that the total length of the railroad in Asiatic Russia was designed to be 4,507 miles, and the total distance from St. Petersburg to Vladivostock, or from the Baltic Sea to the Pacific, was estimated at 6,232 miles. This gigantic work has been prosecuted with marvelous vigor and steadiness and a year ago was declared to be nearing completion.



GREAT RAILWAY SYSTEM THAT RUSSIA IS BUILDING.



RAILWAY ACROSS THE STEPPES.

Changes in the Line.

Changes have been necessitated in the line by recent events in China—originally only one port on the Pacific was thought of, Vladivostock, and that was to be reached, first, by a northerly and then by a southerly bend entirely through Russian territory. But owing to interests obtained by Russia in Manchuria it was deemed inexpedient to follow the line as it was originally surveyed, and accordingly a new line direct from Irkutsk southwest to Vladivostock was adopted. Still more recent events in China have caused another change in the main line to be made, and in consequence not Vladivostock but Port Arthur will be the terminus on the Pacific. So that the trans-Siberian Railroad divides into three prongs as near approach is made to the Pacific. One prong goes straight on to Vladivostock, another strikes down through Manchuria and a third bears in a southerly direction down to Port Arthur. Either of these latter is a shorter cut to the sea by several hundred miles, the Port Arthur route being the shortest of the three. Vladivostock is not to be abandoned; it will have its railroad and be made in consequence a commercial place of importance, but it has the disadvantage of being during one-half the year under snow and ice. Port Arthur is open the year round. But this latter port is in China and before Russia decided to extend its trans-Siberian Railroad thither Russia must have come to a satisfactory understanding with China. Within the present year, then, St. Petersburg will be connected by rail not only with Vladivostock, but with Port Arthur, and probably within next year by branch roads with Canton and Pekin.

It is estimated that after the road is repaired after the first few years of trame the journey from St. Petersburg to Pekin will be made in five days. From London the most important harbor on the Japan Sea will be seventeen and a half days. It is now possible by the "North Express" to go from London to St. Petersburg in two days and four hours. It will therefore be possible to reach Pekin from London in seven or eight days. But this in the future. While the road is new and stiff the speed at which the trains will run will not be greater than twenty miles an hour, but even so it will be possible to go from London to Japan in sixteen days and to China in seventeen days. The shortest cut at present from London to those countries is across the Atlantic, across the United States or Canada and across the Pacific, and with the best of luck it takes from thirty to thirty five days to make it. At first thought this promised shortening of the time would seem to bode anything but good to the transcontinental traffic of the United States and Canada which has been heretofore afforded by England in her commerce with Asiatic countries. But the intense rivalry existing between England and Russia is to be taken into account. The trans-Siberian road will not be extensively patronized by England—it will be supported by Russian traffic and, in a degree, by German. Thus, it is true, is a valuable element in commerce, but it will be lost sight of by the English while pushing their own interests in opposition to those of their most dangerous rival. England, at any rate until the Nicaraguan canal is constructed, will continue to support the Canadian Pacific Railroad by her shipments, and at the same time and from the same source the transcontinental lines within the United States will have each a share of benefits.

Course of Empire Turned Back.

It is for other reasons not to be feared that the course of commerce—of empire—will be changed, turned back on itself, and made to move toward the east. It has ever been westward going, and there is every reason to believe that it will continue in that direction. Civilization, so far as we know, began in the Euphrates valley, moved to the Nile valley, and then to the east end of the Mediterranean. Rome took it up and spread it entirely around the Mediterranean, and afterward it drifted out into the Atlantic. There was never any change or shadow of turning in the course civilization would pursue in its march over the world. Meanwhile eastern trade was had by the advancing nations—first Venice possessed it, then Spain and Portugal, and next Holland and England. Venice ceased as a world power, and her successors to the trade of the Orient, while continuing in the rich traffic, looked ever out toward the west. At length nations surrendered that trade to commercial companies, and themselves sought more and more to discover and occupy new lands in the distant west. Exactly three centuries ago England incorporated the East India company, when England was engaged in making conquests on the American continent. "Westward the course of empire takes its way." It was pursuing that course when it left the Atlantic States of this republic and made its way over the Alleghenies and into the Mississippi valley. Again it was pursuing that course when, in 1849-50, the Pacific coast was reached, and the intermediate country began to be occupied by intelligent people. Our interest in "empire" is, or was until recently, limited to these United States. How far that interest may extend and how permanently nobody just now can say. But it is absolutely certain that the part the United States are to have in the trade and commerce of the beyond—of all the Asiatic countries—is to be immense and soon to be realized. The completion of the trans-Siberian railroad is an event of the greatest significance to this country. It means, first, that Siberia, a country as large as all North America and about as diversified as respects climate and soil and general fertility as large portions of North America, will be filled up with industrious people, and that before the twentieth century is half out all Asia will be teeming with new life and sharing modern prosperity. Secondly, it means that the United States will then exchange products on a large scale with Siberia, China and every other country in that quarter of the globe. Then the Pacific Ocean will be white with steam and sail, as the Atlantic now is—and our Pacific States will be populated perhaps not less densely than Japan. The civilization on the Pacific coast will be the best on this continent, and the splendor of its trading and commercial achievements will eclipse anything that has been known in the past on the eastern side of this continent. Only—the United States hesitates to face about and face the Pacific and the Orient.

It Is Already Profitable.

Such sections of the Siberian railroad as are being operated are reported to be earning operating expenses. The first, or western, section earned expenses the first year, which was 1894. It carried of first, second, third and fourth class passengers 152,315. It brought 189,696 settlers into the country, besides 32,000 workmen and 2,258 convicts. In 1896 the connecting, or Omsk Obi, section carried into the country 37,500 passengers of the different classes and 116,026 settlers. In 1896 on the third section, the Chelabinsk, were carried 23,768 passengers and 3,072 settlers. That was thought to be a good beginning, but it is stated that since 1896, the road having been enormously extended and old stations improved and new stations established, the passenger business has largely increased. Official tables are not at hand, but it is believed that during the last two years not less than 350,000 emigrants have arrived in Siberia. From all accounts the most of them are contented and doing fairly well. The total receipts last year for transportation of passengers and freights were upward of $3,500,000. These figures will serve to change the ideas many hold of that country. Siberia has ever been regarded as a frozen waste, uninhabited except by exiles and quite uninhabitable. A country that can furnish such an amount of business to a new railroad is plainly something very different from that.

When the road is completed the passenger business will be largely increased, for the way passenger traffic will increase, and it is certain that thousands every year will prefer to go all-rail around the world, especially as that way it is cheaper and quicker. Tickets from Warsaw to Vladivostock cost 120 rubles, or $82.40. From London to Vladivostock the cost of a ticket is $119, first-class; a second class ticket is considerably cheaper. A Chicago person knowing the fare to New York and London can easily calculate the cost of transportation from his city through Europe to Vladivostock. The price of a first-class ticket by the Suez canal to Japan is $428. Add the price of sleeping berth, twelve nights, by the Siberian route, and still there is a saving of $190. It is estimated that 160,000 first-class passengers will use the new route annually. Expectations equally high are entertained of the freight traffic. Goods going over the road to the east and those coming west will be those that can pay the highest rates, such as furs, gold, silver, platinum and tea. As the estimated cost of building and equipping the road is $160,000,000, the highest earnings it may be capable of will be needed to pay a profit on the investment. But as the road is owned by the Russian Government and as above all things a military road, pecuniary profits are not what are mainly sought.

Many Branch Roads.

From almost the first the activity of the Russians in Siberia has not been confined to building the main line. Branch roads were early contemplated and some of them are completed. The Russian railroad from Ekatrinburg to the navigable part of the Dwina is nearly completed and the products of Siberia will thus have an important outlet to the White Sea, and hand in hand with the building of the main Siberian water ways connecting with the railroad is progressing, and surveys are preparing for the building of branch roads to all the more important towns of the various provinces and to the mining districts. Few of these branches will be built, however, until the trunk line is completed, for most of the energy and money will be devoted to the main road until the great project is an accomplished fact.

An enormous part of the country that is tributary to the Siberian Railroad is amply blessed by nature and is capable of supporting an enormous population. This road will be the main factor in the next century in the development of an important fraction of the earth's surface. We have only to glance over the list of the projected lines connecting the Siberian road with China to get an idea of the immense influence which Russia is certain to wield over all the interests of Eastern Asia.

AROUND THE WORLD IN THIRTY-THREE DAYS.

WINDOW-GAZERS EARN MONEY.

New Method Employed by Merchants to Attract Attention.

"Modern conditions, needs and competition develop many queer pursuits," said the State street merchant. "The business of carrying signs about the street—'sandwiching' it is called—is a century old. Merchants used to advertise their goods, you know, by hiring a man to go about ringing a bell and crying the wares of his patron. That is one of the street noises we have lost. I sometimes think it would be a good scheme to revive it. It would pay while its novelty lasts. The queerest profession of all professions, I think, is the professional window gazer. All pursuits are 'professions' these days, as you are aware. We haven't any 'trades' left. Never heard of a window gazer?

"There are many in Chicago, and although they don't get rich they are paid enough to keep body and soul together. A window gazer, as the name implies, is a man or woman who makes a living by gazing into a window. You know that if you stand in State street, look fixedly at the twelfth story of a building across the way, you will have a sidewalk blocking crowd about you in no time at all. Well, that is what the window gazer does. He strolls casually along until opposite his employer's window. Then he stops and gazes with an appearance of deepest interest. In five minutes a crowd is gazing with him. As individuals of this crowd get enough and move on others will take their places for possibly half an hour. From a near-by street corner the originator of the audience is looking on. When the crowd has melted away totally he gathers another by the same simple method. He works from 10 in the morning until 9 at night, and he is paid $2 a day. This may seem a large sum for such work, but it is not when the character of the window gazer is taken into consideration. He must be a gentleman in appearance. To dress well is a desideratum with him. You will perceive that a man fitted out like a tramp might look into a window for an hour without exciting any attention or inducing anyone to stop and look with him. The nearer a window gazer can approach to the ensemble of a man of leisure and wealth out for a stroll the more valuable his services are. The same things hold good of women gazers. They are generally placed in front of the displays in the finer millinery shops of the department stores. You can spot one at any time by taking the trouble to hang about any establishment of this character and keeping your eyes open."—Chicago Chronicle.

Siberian Gentleman's Life.

"For five months of the year the Siberian man of fashion lives in the open air, either at the mining camp or in the hunting field," says Thomas G. Allen, Jr., in Ladies' Home Journal. "He is an early bird under all circumstances, and invariably rises between 7 and 8 o'clock, although he may have had but a couple of hours' rest. Nearly every meal is succeeded by a nap. However, dressing operations do not take very long, for when he retires the Siberian only divests himself of his coat and boots. Shirts are unknown in Siberia, and in many houses beds, also. The samovar is set on the dining-room table at 8 a. m., together with eggs, black and white bread, sardines, jam and cakes, etc. Breakfast is eaten, and washed down by five or six glasses of tea stired up with sugar, cream and sometimes jam. At 1 o'clock dinner is served, and at 5 in the afternoon another small meal, much like that of the morning, is taken. A meat supper follows at 9 o'clock.

Naming the Child.

"Among the plantation negroes in the old times," writes a correspondent, "the naming of a child was a matter of great moment. Since they all had the same surname, the distinction had to be made in some other way. And since there were 100 or more to be named, the Bible, classics, literature and history were culled from very freely by the master or some other member of the family to assist the parents in this matter. Among the various names I recall this was the most original one: Elijah the Prophet Lucius K. Polk Mars Abberth L——. The later name was a compliment to one of the young masters, and not to have given the title would have been an act of discourtesy. The name, however, was abbreviated to 'Prop.' and he was so called."—New York Tribune.

Some men consider that they are not dressed up unless they have a white handkerchief showing in their upper coat pockets.

The Inquisition.—The church would be false to its trust if it did not punish all heretics; but in the method of this punishment it may be fallible. The apparent cruelty of the mode of punishment is due to the times and method of life.—Rev. Dr. Breen, R. C., Rochester, N. Y.

When Christ Was on Earth.—You think what you would have done in the times when Christ was on earth, when the apostles had the whole heathen world before them. But if you fail now, you would also have done so then.—Rev. Dr. H. C. Stanton, Presbyterian, Kansas City, Mo.

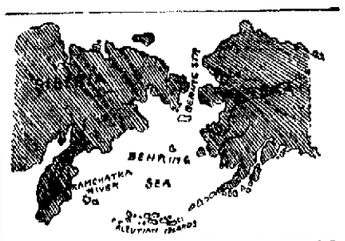
Christ's Forgiveness.—Every man who has sinned and suffered and then gone to the foot of the cross and asked Christ's forgiveness knows something about the atonement that others do not know, because he knows something of his own sin.—Rev. Dr. Van Dyke, Presbyterian, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Social Reconstruction.—Social reconstruction can come only when social justice ceases to be the dream of idealists, and becomes the normal standard of social conduct, and social righteousness attains to the mightiness of economic law.—Rabbi Charles Fleischer, Hebrew, Boston, Mass.

GOLD IN THE FAR NORTH.

Not Surprising that More Has Been Discovered in Kamchatka.

The news that gold has been discovered in Kamchatka is not surprising, when one considers its proximity to the Alaskan gold fields. As shown by the map the Aleutian Islands, which stretch westward from Alaska, form almost a continuation of the Kamchatkan peninsula, so that the journey from these possessions of the United States to the new gold strikes is only a few hundred miles. A range of high volcanic mountains runs through the center of Kamchatka, separating at the lower part into two distinct chains. Between the two lies the fertile valley of the Kamchatka River. Here the summers are warm and vegetation grows luxuriantly, grass growing to the height of five feet, and so rapidly that three crops can be cut in one season. In January the average temperature at the southern end of the peninsula is 20 degrees above zero. The population of Kamchatka is only about 4,500, most of the inhabitants being Indians closely resembling the Eskimos.



RUSSIAN AND AMERICAN GOLD FIELDS.

London's Population.

It is estimated that at the present rate of growth London, which now has a population of 5,657,000, will in 1941 have over 12,000,000.

Which Is South.

You do not need a compass to tell you which is south if you have a watch, and the sun is shining. All you have to do is to lay your watch flat in the palm of your hand, with the hour hand pointing straight in the direction of the sun. No matter what time of day it is the point exactly halfway between the tip of the hour hand and the figure XII on the dial will be south and from this, of course, you can easily tell the other points of the compass.

The Balloon in Astronomy.

M. Janssen, the French astronomer, is arranging for balloon ascents from three stations, one in Europe, another in America, and a third in Siberia, to observe the November shooting stars next year. The balloons are to measure 50,000 to 60,000 cubic feet, and carry three men, one aeronaut and two observers, with electric lamps, chronometers and star maps. They are to go up ten thousand feet. Free balloons are also to be sent up to test the high atmosphere.

NERVOUS DEPRESSION.

[A TALK WITH MRS. PINKHAM.]

A woman with the blues is a very uncomfortable person. She is illogical, unhappy and frequently hysterical.

The condition of the mind known as "the blues," nearly always with women, results from diseased organs of generation.

It is a source of wonder that in this age of advanced medical science, any person should still believe that mere force of will and determination will overcome depressed spirits and nervousness in women. These troubles are indications of disease.

Every woman who doesn't understand her condition should write to Lynn, Mass., to Mrs. Pinkham for her advice. Her advice is thorough common sense, and is the counsel of a learned woman of great experience. Read the story of Mrs. F. S. BENNETT, Westphalia, Kansas, as told in the following letter:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have suffered for over two years with falling, enlargement and ulceration of the womb, and this spring, being in such a weakened condition, caused me to flow for nearly six months. Some time ago, urged by friends, I wrote to you for advice. After using the treatment which you advised for a short time, that terrible flow stopped.

"I am now gaining strength and flesh, and have better health than I have had for the past ten years. I wish to say to all distressed, suffering women, do not suffer longer, when there is one so kind and willing to aid you."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a woman's remedy for woman's ills. More than a million women have been benefited by it.

ESTABLISHED 1833. FORT WAYNE, IND., THURSDAY, JUNE 1, 1899. PRICE TWO CENTS.

NEED VOLUNTEERS

UNITED STATES MUST HAVE MORE SOLDIERS.

OTIS WILL REQUIRE 30,000.

ONLY 24,000 REGULARS ARE AVAILABLE.

ALGER TALKS OF VOLUNTEERS

NOT LESS THAN 10,000 MEN WILL BE CALLED.

Washington, June 1.—Replying to the inquiries of the secretary of war, General Otis telegraphs "that he is still of the opinion that 30,000 troops will be necessary for the effective control of the Philippines."

Secretary Alger took General Otis' cable to the president and after a conference with him stated that the text of the dispatch would not be made public, as it contained other matters besides an answer to his inquiry of yesterday.

"It re-affirms General Otis' estimate made some time ago," said the secretary, "that 30,000 men would be sufficient to cope with the situation. As I stated yesterday, the regulars now under way or under orders to go to the Philippines will give General Otis about 24,000 or 25,000 men, after the withdrawal of the volunteers."

"Where will the additional 5,000 or 6,000 men for whom General Otis asks come from?" the secretary was asked.

"That has not been definitely determined as yet," he replied. "We may be able to take the additional troops asked for from the regulars now located in this country, Cuba and Porto Rico, or it may be found advisable to muster in volunteers."

"In case it is decided to call for volunteers will the call be for the 5,000 or 6,000 men necessary to bring General Otis' total up to the 30,000?"

"If volunteers are called for," replied the secretary, "the call will probably be for 10,000 men."

MAY NEED VOLUNTEERS.

Washington, June 1.—A phase of the army situation that is receiving considerable attention from those interested in the artillery arm of the service is the increasing shortage of men to care for the constantly increasing number of guns in the coast defenses. The question, indeed, may have considerable bearing on the question of whether a call for volunteers will be necessary. There are not enough artillery men, it is claimed, to take care of the modern guns already installed in the coast defense. It is pointed out by those familiar with the situation that the guns themselves are suffering for the want of attention. The emplacements for the modern heavy guns are built with mathematical accuracy. In the big coast guns the whole problem is worked out by mathematics, and if the gun and its foundations deteriorate all the fine work in their original construction goes for nothing.

LAWTON IN COMMAND.

Manila, June 1.—5:05 p. m.—General Lawton has been given command of the defenses of the city and troops forming the line around Manila, which will be his division. General MacArthur commands the outlying garrisons and the troops holding the railroad and river.

INSURGENTS PUNISHED.

Washington, June 1.—The war department has received the following dispatch from General Otis at Manila dated June 1st:

"Smith reports from Negros that he has punished insurgents who murdered Captain Tilley; that the eastern coast of island now under American flag, and inhabitants ask protection against robber bands; the bands pursued into mountains by us and native troops severely punished."

KILLED BY VICIOUS HORSE.

Chicago, June 1.—John Lind, a coal dealer, living at 3118 Princeton avenue, and his 4-months-old son, Raymond, were attacked by a vicious horse in a barn at the rear of 3153 Princeton avenue. The child was trampled to death and Lind received fatal injuries. Lind, carrying the babe in his arms, entered the stall occupied by the horse, and the animal being frightened by the child, which was dressed in white, attacked the father and child, biting and kicking savagely. Lind was felled to the barn floor by a kick in the head from one of the horse's hoofs, which rendered him unconscious. The child fell from its father's arms and rolled under the hoofs of the animal to be trampled into a shapeless mass. It was with difficulty that the corpse of the child and the unconscious body of Lind were rescued from the stall. Lind is now at the hospital with a fracture of the skull, a broken jaw and the ribs broken.

COLORED LEADER DEAD.

Oberlin, Ohio, June 1.—Henry Lee is dead at his home here from injuries received on Decoration day. Mr. Lee was one of the most prominent colored men in Ohio, and was the originator of the appeal to the foreign powers against the treatment of the colored people in the south. He was educated in Oberlin college and was a man of unusual intellect.

FATE OF CAPTAIN DREYFUS

MAY BE MADE KNOWN BY THE COURT TOMORROW.

Argument for Revision Concluded and President Announces an Early Decision.

Paris, June 1.—The court of cassation at noon today resumed hearing the arguments in the application for a revision of the Dreyfus case. The same audience as on previous days of the hearing was present, but the rest of the palace of justice was deserted. Maitre Mornard, counsel for Madame Dreyfus, resumed his speech. He reviewed the facts in favor of Dreyfus. Counsel expects to close his speech today.

Maitre Moran's speech was largely a rethreshing of straw already thoroughly threshed out by M. Ballot de Beaupre and M. Manau. At the conclusion of M. Morand's speech the president of the court announced that sentence would be delivered at one of the approaching sessions of the court. It is generally surmised that this means sentence will be delivered on Saturday, at the opening of the sitting of the court.

STRIKE WILL BE SETTLED.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 1.—The freight handlers' strike, which originated at the Lehigh freight house yesterday and spread to other freight houses, threatening to involve two thousand men, has been checked by negotiations between the leaders of the Freight Handlers' union on one side and the contractors and representatives of the interested railroads on the other. Indications are that a settlement will be reached today. No freight handlers, house or dock men, reported at the Erie freight dock today. No work was done at the Northern or Lehigh. At the Central no dock men presented themselves. The house men, numbering one hundred and fifty, reported. Fifty or sixty of them were put to work. The others were told there was no work for them at present. At the Lackawanna ninety house men were at work. No work was going on at the dock at that hour. At the Anchor Line freight a full complement of freight handlers, house and dock men were working.

ELKS WILL GO IN FORCE.

This morning the Fort Wayne lodge of Elks closed a contract for a special train over the Lake Erie railroad to Muncie next Tuesday to attend the street carnival in that city. About one hundred members of the local lodge will go and will be accompanied by the City band. They leave this city at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning, returning at 1 o'clock the following morning.

REFUSED THE REQUEST.

The Mormon elders who have been holding meetings in this city cannot use the school houses of Wayne township in which to preach their doctrines. This is the ruling of Township Trustee Schmetzer. The Mormons applied to the trustee this week for permission to hold meetings in the school buildings, and the trustee replied, "As long as I can breathe and keep good common sense I'll say no to you." One meeting had been held before the trustee was aware of it, and he promptly put a stop to the use of the buildings for this purpose.

Judge E. C. Vaughn, of the Bluffton-Blackford circuit court, was in the city today visiting the Allen county courts. The judge has been ailing for months, but is now much improved in health and is again attending to the duties of judge.

GREET MARCHAND.

HERO OF FASHODA REACHES FRENCH CAPITOL.

PARIS POPULACE GOES WILD.

THE PEOPLE IN A FRENZY OF ENTHUSIASM.

IS THE IDOL OF THE HOUR.

THE CROWDS WERE DIFFICULT TO CONTROL.

Paris, June 1.—The civil and military authorities and a big crowd of people went to the railroad station at Lyons at 1 o'clock this morning to welcome Major Marchand, the African explorer, on his way to Paris from Toulon. A great concourse began assembling around the depot here on the Lyons-Paris railroad at an early hour today. Members of the League of Patriots arrived in waggonettes decorated with garlands and flags.

A tremendous shout of "Vive Marchand" announced the arrival of the popular idol's train at 9:10 a. m.

A victoria was sent by the minister of marine, M. Luckroy, to convey the major to the ministry of marine, where a lunch was given in his honor.

The carriage was literally covered with flowers and had a tri-color flag at each corner, while the coachman's whip was tied with tri-color ribbons.

Major Marchand and the representative of the minister of marine, Lieutenant Darrieus, entered the vehicle, which, on emerging from the railroad station, was greeted with storms of cheering. All present, with the exception of the officers and non-commissioned officers on the sidewalk, uncovered their heads as the explorer passed. The military men saluted in military fashion.

Delirious enthusiasm marked every step of Marchand's progress along the boulevard Dideret, to the Henri Quatre bridge. On either step of the carriage stood a policeman, who kept the explorer's frantic admirers from entering the vehicle.

The Marchand procession, in which were several carriages conveying non-commissioned comrades and officers sent to greet the explorer, proceeded along the quays to the Boulevard St. Germain, headed by a detachment of horse guards. There was frantic enthusiasm along the entire route. The crowds, in spite of the efforts of the police, broke into the procession, cut off Marchand's carriage from the others and surrounded it cheering and waving hats and sticks.

The procession arrived at the Place de La Concorde at a walking pace and stopped in front of the ministry of marine, where Marchand entered. The other carriages finally arrived with Captain Bavatier, Dr. Emily, Ensign Dye and the other members of the expedition.

The crowd noticed there was no flag hanging from the ministry of marine and shouted for one, whereupon the occupants of a house opposite threw a flag to the crowd. The police, however, seized it and prevented the flag form being attached to the ministry building after some hard scuffling.

The minister of marine and Major Marchand then appeared on the balcony and the other members of the expedition followed, formed a group and repeatedly bowed to the spectators, who acclaimed them until they were hoarse. The Place de La Concorde was black with people and the houses on the Avenue de L'Opera, at the corner of which the military club is situated, and the adjacent streets were decorated with flags.

An enormous crowd gathered in front of the military club and cheered for the army. The interior of the club was decorated with trophies of flags, flowers, etc.

Squads of municipal guards, mounted and on foot, eventually cleared the Avenue de L'Opera and diverted all traffic from it.

Marchand and his companions then lunched at the ministry of marine, a number of generals and admirals being among the guests.

The explorers will be received by President Loubet at the Elysee palace at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

After lunching at the ministry of marine and listening to congratulatory speeches, Marchand received from the minister of the colonies, M. Guillain, a medal commemorative of the expedition.

A delegation from the military newspapers then presented the explorer with a sword of honor, after which Major Marchand, accompanied by the minister of marine, drove to the Elysee palace at 3 o'clock. The crowds along the route cheered the army, the marine minister and Marchand.

Immense throngs of people surrounded the palace and shouts of "down with Panama," caused the arrest of a number of those who gave vent to their feelings in that manner.

REV. EDWIN T. GREGG.

Kokomo, Ind., June 1.—Rev. Edwin T. Gregg, pastor of Grace M. E. church, who was ill of the grip and kindred complications, died Tuesday evening. Mr. Gregg was prominently identified with the reform movements in this city, and was an able and conscientious minister. The "Educational Work of the Society" was reviewed in an able address by Rev. Alex Blackburn, of Oregon. H. B. Grosse, of Massachusetts, spoke on the "Evangelization of Our Foreign Populations," and "Work Among the Chinese" was explained and illustrated in an entertaining manner by Rev. C. H. Hobart, of California.

The following named have been elected officers of the American Baptist Home Mission society:

Dr. Morehouse read the following telegram, which was signed by the First Baptist church of Skagway, Alaska:

"Alaska stretches her hands to God. Pray for and help Alaska."

Dr. Morehouse then asked all Baptists who could to attend a convention in Skagway next year.

AN AMERICAN IN TROUBLE.

Regan, before he was overpowered, resisted desperately and again struck Eckstein after having been arrested. The affair has caused a great sensation here.

STATE COMMITTEE RULES ON REGULARITY.

Columbus, O., June 1.—The republican state convention will meet here this afternoon at 4 o'clock under the temporary organization that has been selected by the state central committee. Previous to the first session it was expected that the selecting of committees would precipitate a warm contest in the Cleveland district, owing to the fight between the Hanna and McKisson factions.

The platform caused little discussion as the delegates seemed to be for the renomination of McKinley for president, for the endorsement of his administration and for the usual other party declarations.

The following temporary organization had been agreed upon before the delegates convened:

Chairman, Congressman W. S. Kerr, of Mansfield; Secretary, Hon. E. L. Lampron, of Ashtabula; Sergeant-at-arms, Frederick Baker, of Cincinnati; Assistant, S. N. Field, of Columbus; Chaplain, Rev. S. S. Palmer, of Columbus.

After the keynote speech of Chairman Kerr, the congressional districts will be called for reports of their respective members of the different committees that were selected at the district meetings earlier in the afternoon.

Owing to the intense feeling over the contested delegations from seven counties, the state central committee attempted to decide today what constituted cause for a contest. The committee decided at least in the case of Hamilton county what did not constitute cause for contest, by ruling that contests would be decided on the party law as expounded in the call of this year and not on the calls for state conventions in former years.

This seats the Cox delegation in the temporary organization and gives it full representation for the first and second congressional districts on all the committees.

The action of the state committee showed an alliance of the field against Nash, that the Daugherty, Cox and Kurtz forces were pulling together on the selection of members of the committee on credentials and in other preliminary work.

This would imply the seating of Holcomb delegates from Cleveland against both the Hanna and McKisson delegations, and it eliminates Mayor McKisson not only from this convention, but also from the old combine with Kurtz, Bushnell and others.

When it comes to balloting for governor the action of the state committee will also have its effect, but the extent of its final influence can not be predicted.

Senator Foraker created a sensation today by declarations which indicated to the delegates that he was opposing Senator Hanna. When the members of the large McKisson delegation arrived at noon they serenaded Senator Foraker at the Southern hotel, the headquarters of the anti-Hanna and anti-Nash men. The senator said he joined them in putting on his fighting clothes and closed his speech thus:

"We are on the eve of a great political battle and Ohio is to play a most important part in this battle, and I say to you that she must be right. This convention is a most important one and if we are to have right and prestige with us we must let the people of our party have a voice in our councils. I say here and now that I believe you men to be loyal, legal representatives of your party and I hope to see you seated in the convention."

Hon. H. M. Daugherty was serenaded and made a speech which some interpreted in connection with the speech of Senator Foraker as indicating that the field was showing defiance to Senator Hanna and Judge Nash. Mr. Daugherty said in closing:

"I have no quarrel with any man within or without the republican party—unless he should forget by mistake that it is within the province of the people to make the candidate for governor."

Nettie Carey has been appointed administratrix of the estate of her deceased husband, Charles Carey.

The county commissioners are this afternoon inspecting and measuring the stone work in the abutments for the Maumee river bridge at Walton avenue. If the work is accepted a settlement will be made at once with the contractors.

Colerick and Attorney Eckart represented the plaintiff and Leonard Brothers appeared for defendants.

SILVER MEN AT A BANQUET.

A LOUISVILLE CLUB HONORS JUDGE TARVIN.

Festivities Lasted Until Nearly Daylight—William J. Bryan Was One of the Orators.

Louisville, Ky., June 1.—The banquet of the Young Men's Democratic club, given last night in honor of Judge James H. Tarvin, did not come to an end until nearly 3 o'clock this morning. The toasts were not reached until after midnight and the 300 guests would apparently have been willing to remain until daylight had not W. J. Bryan's departure on a 3 o'clock train compelled an adjournment.

Mr. Bryan responded to the toast, "The Democratic Party." In his speech he touched on the Chicago platform in his usual strain, saying it was written for all time and not for one campaign, and that more votes would be lost by changing it than would result if left as it is.

Following Mr. Bryan, Charles K. Wheeler, of Kentucky, responded to "The American Army and Navy." He extolled the militarism of America, but subordinated its power to that of the civilian.

After Mr. Wheeler, Judge Sterling B. Toney, of Louisville, paid a magnificent tribute to "The Uncrowned Queens of America, and Their Power in Politics."

Mr. Murray, of Kentucky, responded to the toast, "Shall We Retain the Philippines as a Part of Our Permanent Possessions?"

Following Mr. Murray, ex-Governor Altgeld, of Illinois, responded to the toast, "Government and Municipal Ownership of Public Franchise." He said: "The question of the present age is that of municipal and government ownership of public franchises. This question marks the next forward step of humanity."

Following Mr. Altgeld Hon. George Fred Williams, of Massachusetts, responded to "The Money of the Constitution."

TWO SHOPMEN INJURED.

Charles Hilton, of the Bass machine shops, had his right hand painfully mashed with a sledge about 10 o'clock this morning, and F. Paul, an employe of the Pittsburg planing mill, caught his right thumb in some machinery, suffering some severe cuts. Dr. G. C. Stemen attended their injuries.

MAY BE A FAILURE

WORK OF PEACE CONGRESS IS NOT PROMISING.

DISAGREE ON VITAL POINTS.

AMERICAN MEDIATION SCHEME IS ADOPTED.

DUM-DUM BULLET PROHIBITED

CONVICTION OF FAILURE IS GROWING.

The Hague, June 1.—The American mediation scheme was unanimously adopted at yesterday's sitting of the sub-committee, which embodied as article seven, the scheme prepared by the sub-committee, with few alterations.

The first commission, by a vote of 18 to 3, has adopted a resolution prohibiting the use of "dum-dum," or flattened bullets.

Italy, Austria and Great Britain formed the minority.

It was also resolved to prohibit the use of explosives from balloons and explosive bullets.

An agreement was found to be impossible on all the important proposals and the conviction is growing more than ever that the work of the first commission is doomed to failure.

A PRETTY WEDDING.

A charming wedding ceremony occurred yesterday morning at the Cathedral when John B. Parnin and Miss Clara Lordier were united in marriage. A number of friends and relations of the couple were present at the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Father Durham. The bride was charmingly gowned in white taffeta silk, trimmed with pearl passementerie, and wore a wreath and veil and carried a shower bouquet of white sweet peas. The groomsman was Michael Lordier, brother of the bride, and the bridesmaid was Miss Emma Parnin, a sister of the groom. The bridesmaid wore a gown of blue taffeta silk, trimmed with white embroidered taffeta, and carried a handsome bouquet of pink sweet peas. After the ceremony the happy couple held a reception at the home of the parents of the bride, 37 Baker street, and an elaborate wedding dinner was served to the guests They received many beautiful and costly presents. Mr. and Mrs. Parnin will be at home to their friends in their new residence at 31 Baker street after June 15th.

DANGEROUSLY INJURED.

George Bieberstein was severely injured at the Fremion & Vollmer bottling works yesterday afternoon. He was standing on the lower floor watching some men who were handling a barrel when the fastenings broke and the barrel fell, striking him with great force on the forehead. He was rendered insensible by the blow and the men in the factory summoned the patrol wagon in which he was conveyed to the St. Joseph hospital. Dr. Rosenthal examined the injury and found that the orbital bone had been fractured. He removed many fine splinters of bone and set the bridge of the nose, which had also been broken. While the injury is very serious it is thought that he will recover.

TELEPHONE CABLES.

An underground cable is being laid on the east side of the city by the Home Telephone company, and will be completed soon. It will not only take in the entire present service on that side of the city, but contains enough wires to provide for many additional 'phones without disturbing the cable. About 5,000 feet of cable is to be placed east of Calhoun street, and as soon as it is finished work will be commenced on the west and north sides, where about 15,000 feet will be required.

SILVELA URGES REFORMS.

Madrid, June 1.—Premier Silvela, addressing a meeting of the majority of the senators and deputies today, urged the necessity of radical reforms, which he believed would be realized without recourse to a dictatorship. In the course of his remarks the premier said that if his program for rehabilitation failed the country would fall under a dictatorship, which, he added, would be productive of the greatest evils.

The divorce evil seems to grow with every year. 7,500 divorces were granted in the State of Ohio last year. We agree that there are faults on both sides, but the great problem is: Are those faults remediable? To a great extent there is no doubt the conditions which result in divorce may be remedied. Given a dyspeptic husband and a wife suffering from female trouble and we have the ready made elements of a divorce case. In view of the facts there can be very little doubt that many women look forward to divorce only because they seek relief from obligations they do not feel fitted to fulfill. Women are not to blame. They have looked forward to their home life as a dream of paradise. Then disease comes like a serpent and destroys all happiness.

Women who suffer with debilitating drains, inflammation, ulceration, female trouble and bearing down pains, will find certain relief and cure in Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It so invigorates the organs peculiarly feminine and regulates their functions that they are established in a perfectly healthy condition. The old lightness of heart comes back; there's light in the eyes and a smile on the lips. The old irritation and nervousness are gone, and the husband comes to his home as a haven of rest and comfort.

"I was troubled with female weakness, and after taking three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription I am free from pains," writes Mrs. May E. Jones, 530 Madison Ave., Ypsilanti, Mich. "I had suffered for two years when I began taking your medicine. I could not walk across my room without suffering dreadful pains. Now I do all my housework and walk where I please—thanks to Dr. Pierce's medicine."

NOTES OF THE GAME.

No games were played in the Western league.

Rain prevented the game at Dayton between the Mud Hens and "Old Soldiers."

The Winners have defeated the Madison Street Stars by scores of 24 to 23, 17 to 16 and 7 to 4.

The East End Stars won from the Clay Hills by a score of 26 to 23. Batteries—Niever and Doeheman; Violand and Pothoff.

Where is Peck Sharpe, anyhow? A thorough search of the records of games played in every league has failed to locate the comedian of base ball.

Carrick appears to be doing most of the twirling for the New Yorks. He was in the box yesterday and gave the Cincinnatis a hard run for the game.

The Lillies won from the Ponies by a score of 12 to 6. Batteries—Lillies, Snider, Kopp and Waas; Ponies—Doyle, Bender and Kniffens. Cyril Poiry is captain of the Lillies.

McKenna pitched great ball for Baltimore and Powell has another defeat marked to his credit. O'Connor caught Powell and Johnny missed Criger's fine work.

Decoration day the East Wayne Street Blues defeated the Canal Streets in one of the best played amateur games of the season, the score being 2 to 0. Lauer pitched very effectively. The game was won in the ninth when Hilker hit for a home run with a man on base. Batteries—Lauer and Roux, for East Wayne Streets; Swayne and Dick for Canal Streets. Hits—Blues, 5; Canal Streets, 4. Errors—Blues, 1; Canal Streets, 4. Umpire—Scott Miller.

"Chick" Stahl made the batting record of the season yesterday. In six times at bat he lined out six singles. At present the Fort Wayne boy is batting better than any player in the league.

Admiral Dewey while a resident of Washington was an almost daily attendant at the ball games and already arrangements are being made to make his visits to the ball park hereafter very pleasant.

Artie Ball, who could not be located by the Fort Wayne management, is playing shortstop for the Rock Island Western association team and Fort Wayne "fans" do not now regret his refusal to come here.

Ed. Herr has written to George Reiman that he has not recovered from the effects of the severe attack of fever, and does not believe that he will be able to play any ball this season. A report is circulating that his condition is critical. With big Ed. on the rubber the Fort Wayne twirling staff would have been greatly strengthened, but there are now plenty of good twirlers on the pay-roll and they should be able to pitch winning ball.

WIND STORM STRIKES CITY

SEVERE BLOW IN FORT WAYNE THIS MORNING.

Wind Attained a High Velocity and Ruined Many Trees—Other Damage Slight.

Early this morning Fort Wayne experienced a wind-storm of more than usual severity, accompanied by a dashing rain. The storm was of but short duration, but the wind attained a high velocity and many handsome fruit and shade trees in its path were badly damaged. The storm approached from the southwest shortly before 6 o'clock, and as it neared the city seemed to divide and was most severe in the eastern and western sections of the city.

No severe damage is reported to buildings from any quarter, though a number of signs along Calhoun street were blown to the ground. Large numbers of fruit trees, particularly cherries, are reported damaged in the eastern and northern parts of the city, and the loss from this source will doubtless amount to considerable.

SAM BRISCOE'S PONY SHOW.

Sam Briscoe and his trained ponies and dogs are in the city and have located their tent north of the base ball ground. An entertainment was given last evening and quite a large crowd was present, composed mostly of young folks. The work of the animals is very clever and they display almost human intelligence in the performance of their acts. Professor Brodacks and his trained dogs especially delighted the children. Professor Wood's trained ponies did several wonderful tricks. The feature of the evening's performance was the high dive by the pony "Lehigh." This tiny pony is drawen up to a staging twenty-five feet high by a pair of horses and makes a wonderful dive into a tank 10x12 feet and seems to enjoy it immensely. The performance this afternoon began at 2 o'clock and in the evening will begin at 8 o'clock.

STATE SCHOOL ENUMERATION.

Indianapolis, June 1.—(Special).—Sixty-two counties of the state in reports to the state superintendent of public instruction show a marked decrease in their school enumeration. The total enumeration so far is 730,213. Last year it was 754,945. Grant, Pulaski and Vermillion counties have not yet reported.

WILL GET THEIR MONEY.

This morning Captain Ranke, Captain Meyer and Captain Reese received from Adjutant General Gore the rolls upon which to make out the claims of the volunteer soldiers for the money retained by the state for the militia uniforms worn by them during the war with Spain. At the time of their muster out of the service the state held amounts from the pay of the soldiers covering the cost of the uniforms, and the matter was the occasion of considerable sarcastic comment. However, the legislature appropriated the sum of $40,000 to reimburse the Indiana men, and after the claims are properly certified they will be paid. The amount due the boys of the battery alone is about $1,200.

MAY SELL THE GAZETTE.

There has been no changes made by the receiver in the working force of the Gazette. The Sentinel learned this morning that there were prospects that the paper might be sold within a few days. Messrs. Dougall and Randall, it is understood, are willing to take possession as soon as the court can give them a clear title to the property. Other parties are discussing the advisability of purchasing, but there will be no delay in the sale if an agreement can be reached with the court as to a title.

POLICEMEN WILL EXCURT.

The committee appointed by the policemen to arrange for their third annual excursion, held a meeting last evening and organized by electing Captain Daseler chairman; Clerk Langard, secretary, and Sergeant Harkenrider, treasurer. The committee decided to again visit Rome City, although it had been hoped that proper accommodations could be secured for a trip to Warsaw. The date fixed for the excursion is June 29th. Music will be arranged for and attractions for the day will be running races between Officers Goeglein and Strodel, a swimming match between Mayor Scherer and Clerk Langard, and a sparring match between Lieutenant Lapp and Clerk Schmidt in the evening. There will be no talking match, as Bobby Dickson will remain at home on duty, and Frank Chevlron is the only other officer qualified to enter.

LOCAL NEWS.

Paul Wilstach, agent of the Richard Mansfield company, is in the city.

Judge E. C. Vaughn, of Bluffton, is in the city today, en route to LaGrange to visit his father, who is very ill.

The case of W. L. and Emma Benedict vs. the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago railway was dismissed in the superior court this afternoon, a settlement between the parties having been reached without trial.

In the decree of divorce granted to Mrs. Joseph Sunderland on her cross-complaint, the court issued an order permitting her to resume her maiden name, Etta Perrin. In her cross-complaint Mrs. Sunderland charged her husband with adultery.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Godown, of Indianapolis, have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Mary Dewar, and Harry Clark McLaughlin, which will occur at the home of the bride's parents at 8 p. m., Wednesday evening, June 14. Miss Godown is well known in Fort Wayne, where for a number of years she was an instructress in the Westminster seminary. Years ago Mr. J. P. Godown was city clerk of Fort Wayne. Clark Fairbank is an uncle of the bride-to-be.

Another New Element.

Three French chemists—M. and Mme. Curie and M. Bemont—have discovered a new metallic element, which they call "radium," because of its remarkable property of emitting rays which resemble in their penetrative power Prof. Roentgen's celebrated X rays. Not long ago much surprise was caused by the discovery that uranium is capable of emitting similar rays, but the power of radium in this respect is said to be 900 times greater than that of uranium.

Physician's Experience.

A curious experience is related by a physician of Meudon, France. To examine the throat of one of his children, he held a lighted candle before its mouth and placed the handle of a spoon on the base of the tongue, when there was a sudden flash of blue flame from the throat, and the doctor's mustache and the child's lips were slightly burned. It is explained that the spoon probably produced a slight retching, which brought a little inflammable gas from the stomach.

Vests of Paper.

There is a new rival to the chamois skin vests so long worn by women for extra warmth. Those who have worn them pronounce them less bulky, just as warm and less expensive than the chamois. They are so cheap, indeed, that they can be thrown away and a new one purchased without troubling the conscience of the woman with only a moderate purse.

High Altitudes and Health.

Scientific journals are bestowing great praise upon a book by Prof. A. L. Herrara of Mexico, which recently won the Hodgkins prize of the Smithsonian institution. Prof. Herrara treats of the effects of high altitudes on life, particularly as illustrated by the valley of Mexico, whose elevation is 7,350 feet above sea level. He upsets some old notions, and shows that residence at a high altitude and "baths of rarefied air" conduce to health and longevity, especially in the case of tuberculosis.

DEATH OF AN OLD CITIZEN.

FREDERICK C. ZOLLINGER IS CALLED HOME.

Long a Resident of Allen County—Death of Mrs. Heine—Other Mortuary Matters.

Frederick Zollinger, a widely known and highly esteemed citizen of this county, died last evening at his home in Marion township, at the age of sixty-three years. Mr. Zollinger has been in failing health for some time. His illness dates from a severe attack of la grippe with which he was stricken before the holidays, and he was never able to recover any strength.

For more than fifty years Mr. Zollinger has been a resident of Allen county and was always identfied with its substantial citizenship. He was born in Weisbaden, Nassau, Germany, and was the son of Christian Zollinger. The family came to America in 1848 and settled on the farm in Marion township which was purchased by his father, and later passed into the hands of the subject of this sketch. Since his arrival in America Mr. Zollinger's home has been constantly within the borders of Allen county. Most of his life has been devoted to farming, though he was for a time engaged in the turning and sawmill business, an industry which had come down to him through two generations of his family—both his father and grandfather having been turners.

Mr. Zollinger was united in marriage to Miss Catherine Kellinger, and to them were born fourteen children, all of whom, together with the widow, survive him. Of the children Charles B. is a boilermaker at Springfield, Ill; four remain at home on the farm, and all the others reside in this city. Louis Zollinger, the carriage manufacturer, is a brother of the deceased, as was also Col. C. A. Zollinger, formerly mayor of Fort Wayne, and Henry C. Zollinger, who was trustee of Adams township.

Mr. Zollinger was a staunch democrat politically, and while he did not permit himself to be drawn actively into politics, he was at all times deeply interested in public questions. At the solicitation of friends he was once a candidate for trustee of Marion township, was successful in the election and filled the office most capably. He was in all respects a worthy and substantial citizen, whose death will be deeply deplored.

The funeral services will be held at 1:30 o'clock from the residence, and at 2:30 from Zschoche's church. Rev. Stock will officiate.

HEINE.

Mrs. Mary C. Heine, (nee Grage,) wife of Henry W. G. Heine, died this morning at her home, 141 Wallace street, from ulceration of the stomach, at the age of forty-two years, six months and twenty-nine days. The husband, a daughter, Miss May C., her aged parents and three sisters survive her. The sisters are Mrs. Will Neumeyer, of Prospect, Ohio; Mrs. Charles Neumeyer, and Miss Emma Grage, of this city. The husband is a boilermaker at the Pittsburg shops. The funeral arrangements have not been completed.

BESSON.

At 4 o'clock this morning Ralph B. Besson, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Besson, died at the family home, 22 Summit street, from rheumatism of the heart. The little one was seven years of age. The funeral will probably be held Saturday from the Cathedral.

DR. JOHN I. MANNERS.

This is the gentleman who is entitled to all the credit for the numerous cures that are being effected at the British Medical Institute.

A staff of eminent physicians and surgeons from the British Medical Institute have, at the urgent solicitation of a large number of patients under their treatment in this city, established a permanent branch of the Institute in this city in the Fruit House block, rooms 6 and 7.

These eminent gentlemen have decided to give their services entirely free for three months (medicine excepted) to all invalids who call upon them for treatment between now and July 1st. These services consist not only of consultation, examination and advice, but also of all minor surgical operations.

The object in pursuing this course is to become rapidly and personally acquainted with the sick and afflicted, and under no conditions will any charge whatever be made for any services rendered for three months, to all who call before July 1st. Therefore, the most humble in circumstances can avail themselves of the services of these eminent physicians.

The doctors treat all forms of disease and deformities, and guarantee a cure in every case they undertake. At the first interview a thorough examination is made and, if incurable, you are frankly and kindly told so, also advised against spending your money for useless treatment.

Male and female weakness, catarrh and catarrhal deafness, also rupture and all diseases of the rectum are positively cured by their new treatment.

Decoy Prices.

The unusually low prices for dental work that are sometimes advertised are not "decoy prices." They are decoys and their object is to entice the unwary within the "shooting" range of the advertiser's smart arguments. Almost the first thing that will be told you about these less than fair prices, is that they "are not for the kind of work that you want."

The best work does not need to entice such decoys, and fair changes do not need to hide behind them.

There are faults of one kind or another in every piano that was ever built.
We claim for the Packard Piano that it is just as well made as we know how, that we use the utmost care in the selection of material, that we employ only the best workmen, that we give all our time and thought and energy to getting into it just as much piano goodness as possible.
We could make a piano for less money than the Packard costs, but we won't. No piano can be made to sell at less than the price of the Packard and be a good. No piano made to sell at any price can be better than the Packard.
You can see and hear it at our store.

The anti-Hanna faction of the Ohio republicans is much like a pugilist who goes out of his class to get a licking and a reputation. The big boss solved the hardest proposition of his life when he was elected United States senator and all the others are easy.

The capture by rebel Filipinos of two American officers who were enjoying a little pleasure cruise in Manila bay is not the kind of advertisement that will boom that place as a summer resort.

No more paper money will be sent to the Philippine islands. The islands are inhabited by a variety of ants that have keen appetites for everything in the paper line and they devour paper money whenever it is within reach. The ants compel the use of gold and silver in the Philippines.

It would be entirely consistent with the French character for having very great disturbances over trifles if it should turn out that the bordereau upon which Dreyfus was convicted was in all respects the hoax that M. Manau has hinted it to be. To make the situation in that regard emphatic it should be remembered that that unspeakable villain Esterhazy is its probable author.

There is a national interest in the Ohio republican convention which met in Columbus today. It is not possible to define with any distinctness all the factions there contending, but they are numerous. Of course, the one thing clear is that there is to be a fight on Senator Hanna and that the several small factions united in this laudable purpose can give the Cleveland man a rattling game for awhile. Hanna has a candidate for governor, and that, of course, concentrates against him all the other candidates for the gubernatorial nomination. Then there are Kurtz and McKisson, who hate Hanna with a cordiality that is something thicker than mere sentiment, while "Golden Rule" Jones, the man who can get all the votes in Toledo and Lucas county for anything he wants, is there with at least a suppositious boom for governor and a well understood purpose to flail the administration faction for its war on him in his mayoralty fight in Toledo. Senator Foraker is rather unplaced by the fact of a nominal armistice between himself and Hanna. But it is a devil's truce. It will be an interesting situation to watch, that at Columbus.

NORTHERN INDIANA NOTES.

Fire destroyed the hub and spoke factory owned by James O'Neal, at Redkey.

Mr. and Mrs. William Houser, of Huntington county, have celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.

John Woodward, who was for forty years a resident of Wells county, is dead at Bluffton. He was born in Ohio in 1826.

Chalmer Allman, a seven-year-old Huntington lad, swallowed a tin whistle, which lodged in his throat and baffled efforts of surgeons to remove it.

George Spice, of Huntington, stopped a runaway horse and attempted to drive the animal to its home. A second runaway resulted, in which Mr. Spice was thrown out and badly hurt.

After three publications the Churubusco Evening Truth announces to its readers that the paper will be discontinued. A canvass of the town will be made and if enough patrons can be secured the Evening Truth will reappear June 5th.

A scholarship has been endowed at Notre Dame university by Dr. Edward Johnson, a retired merchant of Waterloo, Wis. The scholarship will bear his name. This is the second scholarship that has been endowed at Notre Dame this year, the other being the gift of the late Rev. Thomas Carroll, of Oil City, Pa.

E. S. Blocker, an engineer on the Chicago and Erie railroad, and living in Huntington, is under arrest charged with an attempt to criminally assault Meta Windemuth, a twelve-year-old girl of Huntington. He was released under bond of $500. He induced the child to go buggy riding with him, when it is alleged he attempted the assault.

The Studebaker Bros. Manufacturing company, of South Bend, has closed contracts for the construction of automobiles aggregating in cost $1,000,000. New York and Boston capitalists are interested in the deal. In order to supply this new demand immense additions will be immediately erected. The cost of the new departments will be $400,000.

Rudolph Bentz, a prosperous Adams county farmer living about six miles east of the Toll-gate school house, killed himself. He was in comfortable circumstances and no reason can be imagined why he committed the deed. Mr. Bentz is not the Rudolph Bentz, who formerly lived in Bluffton, but has been a farmer just across the Adams county line for many years. Wednesday morning, after feeding his cattle, Mr. Bentz secured a small target gun that was kept in the house. He placed the muzzle to his heart and punched at the trigger with a piece of pine shingle until he discharged the ball. He died almost instantly in spite of the fact that the gun was only a 22-calibre.

IN NEW JERSEY, OF COURSE.

FIRST DECISION IN FAVOR OF A TRUST.

Supreme Court of That State Upholds a Combination for the Restraint of Trade.

New York, June 1.—The New Jersey supreme court has rendered a decision, said to be the first in the country, in favor of a trust.

The decision was given in the suit of the New York Trap Rock company against Brown and Fleming.

About two years ago there was a brisk competition between the rival firms and owners of quarries and a trust was formed. Several of the quarries were closed and prices were advanced.

A part of the agreement was that only the agent of the trust was to sell the stone and a penalty of $5,000 was prescribed for violating this clause of the contract.

There was some dissatisfaction and Brown and Fleming accepted an order for a large quantity of stone. The trust demanded the penalty of $5,000, but the firm refused to pay the forfeit and decided to oppose the trust.

The company instituted suit for the amount of the penalty. Brown and Fleming filed a demurrer, setting forth that by the declaration of the plaintiff the company admitted it was a trust, that it was an illegal combination formed for the purpose of destroying competition and to control the prices of trap rock.

The supreme court has given a decision overruling the demurrer.

The court holds that a contract that a single person shall be employed as the sole agent of the manufacturers to sell all their output does not violate any principle of law and may be enforced. It was a decision of the entire court and was a surprise to many lawyers, as the coal combine had been dissolved by Chancellor McGill a few years ago for the same reasons that were advanced in the demurrer.

The four democratic justices voted against the demurrer.

MAKES HIM A MILLIONAIRE.

Victoria, B. C., June 1.—By the allowance of the appeal in the case of Hobbs vs. the Esquimault and Nanimo Railway company by the supreme court of Canada, E. V. Hobbs, a second-hand dealer of Douglass street, in this city, becomes a millionaire. His victory entitles him to the ownership of what is known as the East Wellington extension mine. Several years ago Hobbs bought 160 acres of land comprised in the Esquimault and Nanimo railroad grant. The purchase was made without reservation, but when the deed was completed, the company included reservation of all coal and other minerals. Hobbs refused to accept this and also refused the return of his purchase money, suing for specific performance of contract. The highest tribunal of Canada has now granted the suit, thereby affirming Hobbs' right to the vast coal deposits that are being worked beneath his property.

FATHER CRAWLEY PROMOTED.

It was learned today that Rev. Patrick J. Crawley, assistant pastor of St. Patrick's church, would be transferred from this city to Lebanon, Ind. Rev. Crawley will leave on Saturday to assume his charge. The Lebanon parish is a large and flourishing pastorate, and in recognition of the abilities of Father Crawley, he has been appointed to the post by Very Rev. John Guendling, vicar general of the Fort Wayne diocese. Father Crawley has been assistant pastor of St. Patrick's church for two years and is spoken of by Father Delaney in the highest terms. He has always been a zealous worker and is very popular among his parishioners. Father Crawley carries the good will of the members of the congregation with him to his new charge. It is not yet known who will succeed Father Crawley in this city.

BIG ZINC LAND DEAL.

St. Louis, Mo., June 1.—A special to the Republic from Aurora, Mo., says:

Colby & Co., bankers of Boston, for the sum of $500,000 have purchased eighty acres of land with three zinc mines thereon, belonging to S. H. Miner, of Aurora; A. H. Rogers, of Joplin, and Judge Leo Rassiur, of St. Louis, in addition to 458 acres of undeveloped land belonging to M. L. Flourney, of Aurora. This is one of the largest deals of the kind made in this district, which is sixty miles east of Joplin. The Tuttle mine included in this transaction is acknowledged to be the largest zinc mine in the world.

FATHER BYRNE WILL LEAVE.

Father Byrne will leave for his new field of labor in Union City on Friday. The committee which was appointed on Monday evening to wait upon Father Guendling, the administrator of the Fort Wayne diocese, held a conference with him last evening and presented the request of the members of the congregation that Father Byrne be retained in Fort Wayne. Father Guendling stated that the transfer was a promotion and that the Union City charge was one that needed a man with the energy and ability of Father Byrne, and also that the decision was final and could not be revoked. A large number of the congregation of the church awaited the report of the committee in Library hall, and when the report was made there were many expressions of sorrow that the order could not be rescinded. Father Byrne is very popular with the parishioners as is attested by the strong effort to retain him.

You Can Tell By The Ring

An honest dollar from a counterfeit. A cracked bell makes a noise, but it does not peal out a harmony of perfection. There is that same difference in stores and in advertising and in merchandising. The brass band methods and big wordy announcements that are raising such a din nowadays cannot drown the plain statement of facts that our honest stock makes possible. The flashing of a string of sensational prices will not tempt a thoughtful clothing buyer. He wants value at a fair price. It is an easy matter for us to win in any comparison that is made, because we offer nothing that is not reliable and everything that is.

All the energy we have is turned to selling

THAT BIG RUSSIAN RAILROAD.

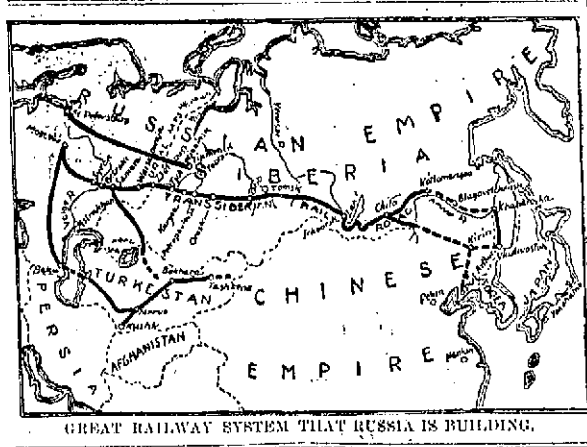
RUSSIA'S BIG ROAD.

GREAT TRANS-SIBERIAN RAILWAY SYSTEM.

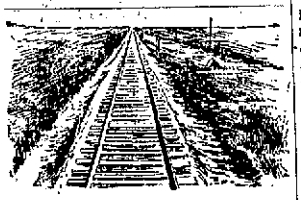
When the Czar's Stupendnous Project Is Completed Our Pacific Coast May Become More Important than the Atlantic.

The Russian minister of railroads is quoted in recent St. Petersburg dispatches as saying that there is no longer doubt that the trans-Siberian road will be finished next year and that when it is completed it will be possible to make the trip around the world in thirty-three days. In this same dispatch Bremen is taken for the European starting point, for the reason that it is reached by steamer from New York; thence the route indicated is from Bremen to St. Petersburg in one and a half days; St. Petersburg to Vladivostock, ten days; Vladivostock to San Francisco by steamer, four and one-half days; San Francisco to Chicago, three and one-half days; Chicago to New York, one day; New York to Bremen, seven days.

Should this longest railroad in the world be completed next year it will have been nine years in course of construction. The preliminary plan of its construction was outlined by the late Emperor Alexander III. of Russia in his rescript addressed in May, 1891, to the Czarowitz. Surveys were made for portions of this continuous trans-Siberian road in 1887-88. Designed to begin at Chelubinsk, near the boundary between European and Asiatic Russia, it was to end in Vladivostock on the Pacific ocean and, together with the system of Russian railroads, was destined for connecting the Baltic Sea with the Pacific. For the sake of facility of construction it was divided into seven lines under the following names, respectively: The Western Siberian Railroad, 885 miles; the Central Siberian, 1,149 miles; the Baikal Loop Line, 195 miles; the Trans-Baikal Railroad, 689 miles; the Amoor, 1,111 miles; the North Ussouri, 227 miles, and the South Ussouri, 252 miles. So that the total length of the railroad in Asiatic Russia was designed to be 4,507 miles, and the total distance from St. Petersburg to Vladivostock, or from the Baltic Sea to the Pacific, was estimated at 6,232 miles. This gigantic work has been prosecuted with marvelous vigor and steadiness and a year ago was declared to be nearing completion.



GREAT RAILWAY SYSTEM THAT RUSSIA IS BUILDING.



RAILWAY ACROSS THE STEPPES.

Changes in the Line.

Changes have been necessitated in the line by recent events in China—originally only one port on the Pacific was thought of, Vladivostock, and that was to be reached, first, by a northerly and then by a southerly bend entirely through Russian territory. But owing to interests obtained by Russia in Manchuria it was deemed inexpedient to follow the line as it was originally surveyed, and accordingly a new line direct from Irkutsk southwest to Vladivostock was adopted. Still more recent events in China have caused another change in the main line to be made, and in consequence not Vladivostock but Port Arthur will be the terminus on the Pacific. So that the trans-Siberian Railroad divides into three prongs as near approach is made to the Pacific. One prong goes straight on to Vladivostock, another strikes down through Manchuria and a third bears in a southerly direction down to Port Arthur. Either of these latter is a shorter cut to the sea by several hundred miles, the Port Arthur route being the shortest of the three. Vladivostock is not to be abandoned; it will have its railroad and be made in consequence a commercial place of importance, but it has the disadvantage of being during one-half the year under snow and ice. Port Arthur is open the year round. But this latter port is in China and before Russia decided to extend its trans-Siberian Railroad thither Russia must have come to a satisfactory understanding with China. Within the present year, then, St. Petersburg will be connected by rail not only with Vladivostock, but with Port Arthur, and probably within next year by branch roads with Canton and Pekin.

It is estimated that after the road is repaired after the first few years of traffic the journey from St. Petersburg to Pekin will be made in five days. From London the most important harbor on the Japan Sea will be seventeen and a half days. It is now possible by the "North Express" to go from London to St. Petersburg in two days and four hours. It will therefore be possible to reach Pekin from London in seven or eight days. But this in the future. While the road is new and still the speed at which the trains will run will not be greater than twenty miles an hour, but even so it will be possible to go from London to Japan in sixteen days and to China in seventeen days. The shortest cut at present from London to those countries is across the Atlantic, across the United States or Canada and across the Pacific, and with the best of luck it takes from thirty to thirty-five days to make it. At first thought this promised shortening of the time would seem to bode anything but good to the transcontinental traffic of the United States and Canada which has been heretofore afforded by England in her commerce with Asiatic countries. But the intense rivalry existing between England and Russia is to be taken into account. The trans-Siberian road will not be extensively patronized by England—it will be supported by Russian traffic and, in a degree, by German. Time, it is true, is a valuable element in commerce, but it will be lost sight of by the English while pushing their own interests in opposition to those of their most dangerous rival. England, at any rate until the Nicaraguan canal is constructed, will continue to support the Canadian Pacific Railroad by her shipments, and at the same time and from the same source the transcontinental lines within the United States will have each a share of benefits.

Course of Empire Turned Back.

It is for other reasons not to be feared that the course of commerce—of empire—will be changed, turned back on itself, and made to move toward the east. It has ever been westward going, and there is every reason to believe that it will continue in that direction. Civilization, so far as we know, began in the Euphrates valley, moved to the Nile valley, and then to the east end of the Mediterranean. Rome took it up and spread it entirely around the Mediterranean, and afterward it drifted out into the Atlantic. There was never any change or shadow of turning in the course civilization would pursue in its march over the world. Meanwhile eastern trade was had by the advancing nations—first Venice possessed it, then Spain and Portugal, and next Holland and England. Venice ceased as a world power, and her successors to the trade of the Orient, while continuing in the rich traffic, looked ever out toward the west. At length nations surrendered that trade to commercial companies, and themselves sought more and more to discover and occupy new lands in the distant west. Exactly three centuries ago England incorporated the East India company, when England was engaged in making conquests on the American continent. "Westward the course of empire takes its way." It was pursuing that course when it left the Atlantic States of this republic and made its way over the Alleghenies and into the Mississippi valley. Again it was pursuing that course when, in 1849-50, the Pacific coast was reached, and the intermediate country began to be occupied by intelligent people. Our interest in "empire" is, or was until recently, limited to these United States. How far that interest may extend and how permanently nobody just now can say. But it is absolutely certain that the part the United States are to have in the trade and commerce of the beyond—of all the Asiatic countries—is to be immense and soon to be realized. The completion of the trans-Siberian railroad is an event of the greatest significance to this country. It means, first, that Siberia, a country as large as all North America and about as diversified as respects climate and soil and general fertility as large portions of North America, will be filled up with industrious people, and that before the twentieth century is half out all Asia will be teeming with new life and sharing modern prosperity. Secondly, it means that the United States will then exchange products on a large scale with Siberia, China and every other country in that quarter of the globe. Then the Pacific Ocean will be white with steam and sail, as the Atlantic now is—and our Pacific States will be populated perhaps not less densely than Japan. The civilization on the Pacific coast will be the best on this continent, and the splendor of its trading and commercial achievements will eclipse anything that has been known in the past on the eastern side of this continent. Only—the United States hesitates to face about and face the Pacific and the Orient.

It Is Already Profitable.

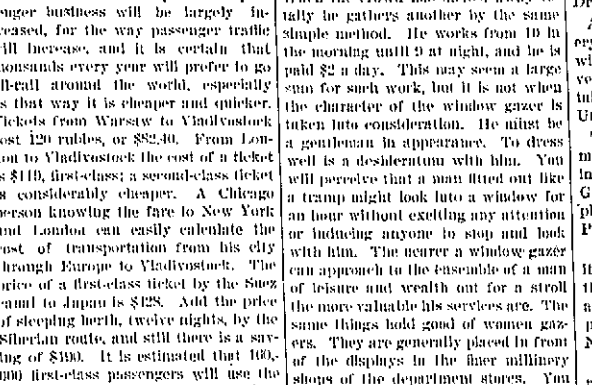
Such sections of the Siberian railroad as are being operated are reported to be earning operating expenses. The first, or western, section earned expenses the first year, which was 1891. It carried of first, second, third and fourth class passengers 152,315. It brought 180,686 settlers into the country, besides 32,000 workmen and 2,258 convicts. In 1896 the connecting, or Omsk Obi, section carried into the country 37,500 passengers of the different classes and 116,025 settlers. In 1896 on the third section, the Chelabinsk, were carried 23,768 passengers and 3,072 settlers. That was thought to be a good beginning, but it is stated that since 1896, the road having been enormously extended and old stations improved and new stations established, the passenger business has largely increased. Official tables are not at hand, but it is believed that during the last two years not less than 350,000 emigrants have arrived in Siberia. From all accounts the most of them are contented and doing fairly well. The total receipts last year for transportation of passengers and freights were upward of $3,500,000. These figures will serve to change the ideas many hold of that country. Siberia has ever been regarded as a frozen waste, uninhabited except by exiles and quite uninhabitable. A country that can furnish such an amount of business to a new railroad is plainly something very different from that.

When the road is completed the passenger business will be largely increased, for the way passenger traffic will increase, and it is certain that thousands every year will prefer to go all-rail around the world, especially as that way it is cheaper and quicker. Tickets from Warsaw to Vladivostock cost 120 rubles, or $82.40. From London to Vladivostock the cost of a ticket is $119, first-class; a second-class ticket is considerably cheaper. A Chicago person knowing the fare to New York and London can easily calculate the cost of transportation from his city through Europe to Vladivostock. The price of a first-class ticket by the Suez canal to Japan is $128. Add the price of sleeping berth, twelve nights, by the Siberian route, and still there is a saving of $100. It is estimated that 100,000 first-class passengers will use the new route annually. Expectations equally high are entertained of the freight traffic. Goods going over the road to the east and those coming west will be those that can pay the highest rates, such as furs, gold, silver, platinum and tea. As the estimated cost of building and equipping the road is $150,000,000, the highest earnings it may be capable of will be needed to pay a profit on the investment. But as the road is owned by the Russian government and as above all things a military road, pecuniary profits are not what are mainly sought.

Many Branch Roads.

From almost the first the activity of the Russians in Siberia has not been confined to building the main line. Branch roads were early contemplated and some of them are completed. The Russian railroad from Ekatrinburg to the navigable part of the Dwina is nearly completed and the products of Siberia will thus have an important outlet to the White Sea, and hand in hand with the building of the main Siberian water ways connecting with the railroad is progressing, and surveys are preparing for the building of branch roads to all the more important towns of the various provinces and to the mining districts. Few of these branches will be built, however, until the trunk line is completed, for most of the energy and money will be devoted to the main road until the great project is an accomplished fact.

An enormous part of the country that is tributary to the Siberian Railroad is amply blessed by nature and is capable of supporting an enormous population. This road will be the main factor in the next century in the development of an important fraction of the earth's surface. We have only to glance over the list of the projected lines connecting the Siberian road with China to get an idea of the immense influence which Russia is certain to wield over all the interests of Eastern Asia.



AROUND THE WORLD IN THIRTY-THREE DAYS.

WINDOW-GAZERS EARN MONEY.

New Method Employed by Merchants to Attract Attention.

"Modern conditions, needs and competition develop many queer pursuits," said the State street merchant. "The business of carrying signs about the street—'sandwiching' it is called—is a century old. Merchants used to advertise their goods, you know, by hiring a man to go about ringing a bell and crying the wares of his patron. That is one of the street noises we have lost. I sometimes think it would be a good scheme to revive it. It would pay while its novelty lasts. The queerest profession of all professions, I think, is the professional window gazer. All pursuits are 'professions' these days, as you are aware. We haven't any 'trades' left. Never heard of a window gazer?

"There are many in Chicago, and although they don't get rich they are paid enough to keep body and soul together. A window gazer, as the name implies, is a man or woman who makes a living by gazing into a window. You know that if you stand in State street, look fixedly at the twelfth story of a building across the way, you will have a sidewalk blocking crowd about you in no time at all. Well, that is what the window gazer does. He strolls casually along until opposite his employer's window. Then he stops and gazes with an appearance of deepest interest. In five minutes a crowd is gazing with him. As individuals of this crowd get enough and more on others will take their places for possibly half an hour. From a near-by street corner the originator of the audience is looking on. When the crowd has melted away totally he gathers another by the same simple method. He works from 10 in the morning until 9 at night, and he is paid $2 a day. This may seem a large sum for such work, but it is not when the character of the window gazer is taken into consideration. He must be a gentleman in appearance. To dress well is a desideratum with him. You will perceive that a man fitted out like a tramp might look into a window for an hour without exciting any attention or inducing anyone to stop and look with him. The wearer a window gazer can approach to the ensemble of a man of leisure and wealth out for a stroll the more valuable his services are. The same things hold good of women gazers. They are generally placed in front of the displays in the finer millinery shops of the department stores. You can spot one at any time by taking the trouble to hang about any establishment of this character and keeping your eyes open."—Chicago Chronicle.

Siberian Gentleman's Life.

"For five months of the year the Siberian man of fashion lives in the open air, either at the mining camp or in the hunting field," says Thomas G. Allen, Jr., in Ladies' Home Journal. "He is an early bird under all circumstances, and invariably rises between 7 and 8 o'clock, although he may have had but a couple of hours' rest. Nearly every meal is succeeded by a nap. However, dressing operations do not take very long, for when he retires the Siberian only divests himself of his coat and boots. Shirts are unknown in Siberia, and in many houses beds, also. The samovar is set on the dining-room table at 8 a. m., together with eggs, black and white bread, sardines, jam and cakes, etc. Breakfast is eaten, and tea stirred up with sugar, cream and sometimes jam. At 1 o'clock dinner is served, and at 5 in the afternoon another small meal, much like that of the morning, is taken. A meat supper follows at 9 o'clock.

Naming the Child.

"Among the plantation negroes in the old times," writes a correspondent, "the naming of a child was a matter of great moment. Since they all had the same surname, the distinction had to be made in some other way. And since there were 100 or more to be named, the Bible, classics, literature and history were culled from very freely by the master or some other member of the family to assist the parents in this matter. Among the various names I recall this was the most original one: Elijah the Prophet Lucius K. Polk Mars Abberth L——. The later name was a compliment to one of the young masters, and not to have given the title would have been an act of discourtesy. The name, however, was abbreviated to 'Prop,' and he was so called."—New York Tribune.

GOLD IN THE FAR NORTH.

Not Surprising that More Has Been Discovered in Kamchatka.

The news that gold has been discovered in Kamchatka is not surprising, when one considers its proximity to the Alaskan gold fields. As shown by the map the Aleutian Islands, which stretch westward from Alaska, form almost a continuation of the Kamchatkan peninsula, so that the journey from these possessions of the United States to the new gold strikes is only a few hundred miles. A range of high volcanic mountains runs through the center of Kamchatka, separating at the lower part into two distinct chains. Between the two lies the fertile valley of the Kamchatka River. Here the summers are warm and vegetation grows luxuriantly, grass growing to the height of five feet, and so rapidly that three crops can be cut in one season. In January the average temperature at the southern end of the peninsula is 20 degrees above zero. The population of Kamchatka is only about 4,500, most of the inhabitants being Indians closely resembling the Eskimos.

It is estimated that at the present rate of growth London, which now has a population of 6,657,000, will in 1911 have over 13,000,000.

SERMONS OF THE WEEK

Immortality.—The best evidence of immortality is the revelation of immortality.—Rev. L. P. Mercer, Swedenborgian, Chicago, Ill.

Two Kinds of Religion.—There are two kinds of religion—the religion of the crowd and the religion of the consecrated heart.—Rev. George Hodges, Episcopalian, Cambridge, Mass.

Self-Help.—The truest benefactors of the poor are those who teach self-help. Not alms, but a friend, is a wise motto for philanthropists.—Rev. T. J. Villers, Baptist, Indianapolis, Ind.

Mental and Spiritual Recreancy.—To suppress any known truth or any part thereof is mental and spiritual recreancy.—Rev. J. L. Barton, Congregationalist, Bangor, Me.

Emphasized Promises.—Many promises of immortality are emphasized and illumined by Christ's personal ascension to the heavens. Rev. R. S. Storrs, Congregationalist, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Inward Impulses.—The masses of men are as untouched by the breath of inward impulses as are the depths of the ocean by even the tornado's wrath.—Dr. E. G. Hirsch, Hebrew, Chicago, Ill.

A Wise and Benevolent Power.—Every argument for the existence of a wise and benevolent power in the universe is an argument for the immortality of man.—Rev. M. D. Shutter, Universalist, Minneapolis, Minn.

The Idea of God. Those engaged in metaphysical speculations or scientific investigations must have the idea of God back of them in order to accomplish anything.—Rev. E. L. Patton, Presbyterian, Princeton, N. J.

Storms.—The Lord God has written it plain in his word that he often calls the best people to suffer most. Storms are meant just as much for good people as for wicked people.—Rev. S. A. Northrop, Baptist, Kansas City, Mo.

Bible Contrasts.—The Bible always revels in contrasts; it is the sledge-hammer blows of genius; once you admit its premises you are obliged to admit its conclusions.—Rev. F. De Witt Talmage, Presbyterian, Milwaukee, Wis.

Spiritual Progress.—In the realm of spiritual progress there is yet very much land to be possessed, and this coming year should enlarge and deepen and broaden Christian life as never before.—Rev. W. J. Chichester, Presbyterian, Chicago, Ill.

God's Love.—God's love should not be measured by comforts, possessions and powers given to man, nor by the wealth, but by the fact that he gave his Son to redeem it.—Rev. A. H. Evans, Presbyterian, New York City.

The Inquisition.—The church would be false to its trust if it did not punish all heretics; but in the method of this punishment it may be fallible. The apparent cruelty of the mode of punishment is due to the times and method of life.—Rev. Dr. Breen, R. C., Rochester, N. Y.

When Christ Was on Earth.—You think what you would have done in the times when Christ was on earth, when the apostles had the whole heathen world before them. But if you fail now, you would also have done so then. —Rev. Dr. H. C. Stanton, Presbyterian, Kansas City, Mo.

Christ's Forgiveness.—Every man who has sinned and suffered and then gone to the foot of the cross and asked Christ's forgiveness knows something about the atonement that others do not know, because he knows something of his own sin.—Rev. Dr. Van Dyke, Presbyterian, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Social Reconstruction.—Social reconstruction can come only when social justice ceases to be the dream of idealists, and becomes the normal standard of social conduct, and social righteousness attains to the mightiness of economic law.—Rabbi Charles Fleischer, Hebrew, Boston, Mass.

Which Is South.

You do not need a compass to tell you which is south if you have a watch, and the sun is shining. All you have to do is to lay your watch flat in the palm of your hand, with the hour hand pointing straight in the direction of the sun. No matter what time of day it is the point exactly halfway between the tip of the hour hand and the figure XII on the dial will be south and from this, of course, you can easily tell the other points of the compass.

The Balloon in Astronomy.

M. Janssen, the French astronomer, is arranging for balloon ascents from three stations, one in Europe, another in America, and a third in Siberia, to observe the November shooting stars next year. The balloons are to measure 50,000 to 60,000 cubic feet, and carry three men, one aeronaut and two observers, with electric lamps, chronometers and star maps. They are to go up ten thousand feet. Free balloons are also to be sent up to test the high atmosphere.

NERVOUS DEPRESSION.

[A TALK WITH MRS. PINKHAM.]

A woman with the blues is a very uncomfortable person. She is illogical, unhappy and frequently hysterical.

The condition of the mind known as "the blues," nearly always with women, results from diseased organs of generation.

It is a source of wonder that in this age of advanced medical science, any person should still believe that mere force of will and determination will overcome depressed spirits and nervousness in women. These troubles are indications of disease.

Every woman who doesn't understand her condition should write to Lynn, Mass., to Mrs. Pinkham for her advice. Her advice is thorough common sense, and is the counsel of a learned woman of great experience. Read the story of Mrs. F. S. Bennett, Westphalia, Kansas, as told in the following letter:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have suffered for over two years with falling, enlargement and ulceration of the womb, and this spring, being in such a weakened condition, caused me to flow for nearly six months. Some time ago, urged by friends, I wrote to you for advice. After using the treatment which you advised for a short time, that terrible flow stopped.

"I am now gaining strength and flesh, and have better health than I have had for the past ten years. I wish to say to all distressed, suffering women, do not suffer longer, when there is one so kind and willing to aid you."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a woman's remedy for woman's ills. More than a million women have been benefited by it.

HENRY CLAY FRICK.

NEW HEAD OF THE CARNEGIE STEEL COMPANY.

A Poor Bookkeeper in 1870, He Is Now a Multimillionaire and Controls Enterprises Involving Hundreds of Millions of Dollars.

As the head of the new Carnegie Steel Company, the greatest of all the recently consolidated industrial concerns, Henry Clay Frick has become a man of world-wide interest. He is a man of uncommon mould. "At 21 he was a poorly paid bookkeeper in a distillery." To-day, at 50, he is the owner of the greatest coke-making plants in the world, has a private fortune amounting to $15,000,000 or more, and is the active head of enterprises involving the use of hundreds of millions of dollars in capital. A man who can make this kind of a record for himself can be truthfully described as "uncommon." Mr. Frick is the builder of his own fortune. He secured what he has without the aid of family influence or wealth, and it is the creation of his own brain and industry.

Henry Clay Frick was born in Fayette County, Ohio, in 1849. His father was a farmer in moderate circumstances, who had lived in West Overton, Pa. With nothing but a common school education young Frick went to work as a dry goods clerk, but soon gave up that to become a bookkeeper in the distillery owned by his grandfather at Bradford, Pa.

This took young Frick into the very heart of the coke region. Although he was only 21 years of age then, he had developed the habit of accumulating money, and saved most of his earnings. He took a great interest in the manufacture of coke, studied the process, and made up his mind that he would some day go into the business. At this time, too, he was a close student of the labor situation in the coal and coke regions.

A short time after passing his majority Frick and two other young men scraped up enough money between them to buy 300 acres of land and 50 coke ovens. They began to manufacture coke under the firm name of Frick & Co. Frick succeeded so well in the coke business that within four years he increased his ovens from fifty to one hundred. The coke business kept on booming at a great rate until 3,673 ovens had been built in the region.

Then came the panic of 1873. The price of pig iron declined enormously, the price of coke fell in sympathy, and everybody wanted to get out of the coke business. Not so with Mr. Frick. He invested every dollar that he had or could raise in purchasing the coke properties and ovens which others were so ready to sell at low prices. All through the panic he kept his ovens going. In 1876 he separated from his old partners and took E. M. Ferguson as a new partner. Great success came to this new firm in 1879, when there came an unprecedented demand for coke, and prices went up from $1 to $5 a ton.

Under the impetus of this boom Mr. Frick continued to buy coke ovens and coke lands until in 1882 his firm had 3,000 acres of coal land and 1,026 coke ovens. It was that year that Carnegie Bros. & Co. (limited) became partners in the firm of H. C. Frick & Co.

The success of the firm from 1882 to 1890 was phenomenal, and it is generally acknowledged that it was in the greatest degree due to the energy and push of Mr. Frick himself. In 1890 the corporation owned and controlled 25,000 acres of coal lands, 42 of the 80 coke plants in the region, with an aggregate of 10,946 ovens, three water plants and a pumping capacity of 5,000,000 gallons daily, 35 miles of railroad and 1,200 cars. Eleven thousand men were on the pay rolls of the company then. On the death of David A. Stewart, in December, 1888, Andrew Carnegie offered Mr. Frick an interest in the firm of Carnegie Bros. & Co., which Mr. Frick accepted and paid for. He was at once made chairman of the directors of Carnegie Bros. & Co.

As an employer of labor Mr. Frick earned the everlasting hatred of the Amalgamated Association. When he was put at the head of all of the Carnegie steel interests, the Amalgamated Association felt that the fight for its life had come, and in June, 1892, came the bloody Homestead riots.

It was a time of great political excitement and party managers brought the greatest influence to bear on Mr. Frick to get him to agree to the terms demanded by the men. But he was deaf to all entreaty. The only question he would consider was how to defeat the strikers. He thought of nothing else, even after the Anarchist Berkman had shot him and he was upon a bed from which it was feared he would never rise. The bloody battle of Homestead, when the Pennsylvania State troops were called out to protect the Carnegie Works, and in which so many lives were lost, did not swerve Mr. Frick in his purpose. He fought the strike out and won it.

Mr. Frick and others were indicted for manslaughter as a result of the Homestead riots, but the indictments were afterward dismissed on the motion of the prosecuting officers. Since that time other anarchists have threatened to kill Mr. Frick. It is a fact that he has been nervous on that score. He is always very careful whom he receives, either at his home, his office, or his hotel. Up to the time the Anarchist Berkman made an attempt to kill him, and succeeded in wounding him seriously, Mr. Frick gave little heed to the threats made against him, but since then he has shown more concern for his personal safety. Personally Mr. Frick is a very pleasant man. He spends very little time in social pleasures and is wrapped up completely in his business.

What a Trillion Is.

People often speak of a trillion as a possible number. The fact is, not a trillion of seconds has elapsed since the creation of Adam; nor will that number have elapsed until Feb. 1, in the year of our Lord 25825; for in a trillion of seconds there are 31,687 years 224 days 1 hour 46 minutes and 40 seconds.

HOW TO KEEP COOL

FROM a hygienic standpoint, to become overheated is as great an error as for an infielder to muff a ground hit. Equatorial climes with their dazzling heat do not destroy their peoples. Down close to the equator, where the sun gets a full tilt at the earth, sunstrokes are comparatively rare. Up here, where a temperature of 100 degrees Fahrenheit is rare, sunstrokes or their twin afflictions, heat prostrations, are very common. Why it should be so is a topic of interest. When it is known that in neither case, the health being good, should a person be in any grave danger, the frequency of death in summer from such causes is a marvel. It all depends on the man. Some persons will walk smoothly and placidly along the street without an umbrella, with the sun making ridges of heat across the avenue. Collar and cuffs will not wilt and the man seems unconscious that the weather is playing any unusual pranks. He may carry pounds too much weight, yet suffer but little, if at all. Another man of thin figure will pant and moan and mop his fevered brow in an agony of heat. Why this is thus is what a correspondent would term a mystery. But there is no mystery about it. One knows he is not hot, the other thinks he is. Keeping cool is not a matter of clothes or their lack. There are men on earth who wear nothing but a brow clothed in thought, whose sunburned polls indicate the advantage of garments, even if the garden of Eden had not prematurely discovered the same thing.

Some positive directions apply to the art of keeping cool. The first is the most important and if well observed robs the weather of nine tenths of its terrors. That rule is a simple one and is merely to give the sun a chance. Let him get a good, square whack at you early in the season. To avoid the sun with an umbrella when he first burns savagely is to invite the heat prostration habit. Therefore get out and mingle with the rays as soon as the season opens. This will do three things: give you a beautiful tinting, fill your lungs with fresh air and adjust your hide to the incoming heat. Custom rules in this as in other things. If you accustom yourself to the sun he will be your friend. The baseball man plays when the thermometer speaks of 101 and does not abate his exertions a trifle. Any man or woman who so wishes may do the same thing in a smaller degree without the hard training of athletes. Having thus prepared, your system for sunlight and lots of it see that your health is kept up properly. Let the vascular system—the circulation, arterial, venous and capillary—and the alimentary system be in proper running order and you will suffer little from heat.

Having thus laid the foundation for a successful season do not spoil it all by insanely rushing about your undertakings under the apparent belief that to-day is the last on earth. If you do it may be the last. Hurry never accomplishes anything but the discomfiture of him who rushes unduly. A sunstroke usually comes from exposure directly due to the rays of the sun. Heat prostration may overtake a man who has been in the shade all day. Do not overeat, do not overdrink, do not overdress. Take exercise in moderation. Do not fear the sun, for unless sick or reduced in vitality by overindulgence it is your friend rather than your enemy. Carry out the foregoing indefinite rules and you will finish winner in a summer of scorching heat.

OLD NEWGATE PRISON.

This Thousand-Year-Old Building to Give Way to a New Structure.

Newgate prison, the cable dispatches say, is to be torn down. On its site a new court building is to be erected. Newgate is a place of bloody memories. Standing in the heart of London, it has been for a thousand years the scene of tortures and executions. Englishmen will probably be glad to see its ancient walls give way to a new structure which will stand for more civilized and merciful methods of punishment.

Newgate has not been used since 1881, except for the detention of prisoners awaiting trial or execution. It is one of the oldest buildings in London—how old no one knows. It was used as a prison as far back as 1188, as the records of those times show. It was probably built several hundred years before. Hundreds of thousands of prisoners have been executed within its walls. In 1556 it was almost altogether destroyed by fire and again in 1630, but was rebuilt, and has always served the same grim purpose. The names of the distinguished men who have been imprisoned in Newgate would fill a volume. Among them are William Penn, founder of Pennsylvania; Defoe, author of "Robinson Crusoe;" and Sir Robert Wright, Lord Chief Justice of England.

Inside Newgate Prison many prisoners have been tortured. In fact, as late as 1723 torture was used, and until 1868 the executions were public and were made the occasion of a holiday. In 1807, when 40,000 people had gathered to see one Holloway, a murderer, executed, a panic ensued, and 100 men, women, and children were trampled to death. As late as 1788 women were burned to death in front of Newgate prison for counterfeiting, and the stocks and pillories were always full of unfortunates. Dickens thundered against the abomination of the public executions at Newgate, and it is largely due to his great influence that the reform was accomplished in 1868.

Stop That Cough.

For troublesome hacking coughs with which many people are constantly afflicted, especially tobacco smokers, for inflammation of the mucous membrane of the throat and larynx, there is no remedy superior to the following:

Take the juice of three fresh lemons, add an equal quantity of hot water, one-quarter of a level teaspoonful of powdered alum, enough granulated white sugar to make a syrup; put the solution in a clean vessel, put it on the fire and bring it to a boil. When cool it will be ready for use. Dose, one teaspoonful every hour until relieved.

Caution: This is a very powerful solution and should be taken exactly according to directions. It should be measured in a teaspoon and not taken by guess.

If bottled and corked tightly it can be kept any length of time.

An electric arc lamp for use under water, a consummation that has baffled electricians for years, has been produced by a German firm.

TILDEN'S HOME.

The Historic Gramercy Park Residence Lately Sold at Auction.

The old residence of Samuel J. Tilden in Gramercy Park, New York, which was recently sold at auction for $180,000, is one of the interesting places of a historic neighborhood. Nearby are the residences of such famous men as David Dudley Field and his brother, Cyrus; Hamilton Fish and ex-Mayor Hewitt.

Tilden's house is rich with traditions of the campaign of 1876. Here he received the notification of his nomination for the Presidency. Here came his memorable and momentous colloquy to advise with him in respect to the advisability of agreeing to the proposed commission by which the contested election was to be submitted to an arbitrating tribunal. Here, in a richly decorated back parlor, before a noble fireplace with logs big enough to gratify a lumberman in his camp, Tilden, with a few friends whom he trusted more than any others, sat in his armchair, his slippers off, his feet incased in the woolen socks which had been favorites with him since childhood days, and toasted them before the fire of hickory logs, and revealed his plans for the campaign, his plans for the commission, and sometimes, when in a philosophic mood, told his philosophy of human nature, of politics and the commercial influences that made men successful in his day.

Those were his happier moments, but it always pleased him to show discriminating friends the choice works in his library, the beautiful collection of engravings and etchings, and he could be complimented in no surer way to draw from him thankful smiles than to express admiration for the lavish and yet artistic decorations with which he beautified the interior of the house at the expense of over $100,000. All of that expense goes for naught. The house sold for a little more than enough to represent its actual value as a piece of real estate.

BIKE WITHOUT HANDLE-BARS.

Wheel Is Steered by the Motion of the Rider's Body.

A bicycle without any semblance of a handle bar, but which is steered entirely by the motion of the rider's body, is the invention of Simon Metzger, of Lima, Iowa. Many wheelmen have the present type of wheel so completely under their control that they can guide the machine in this way, but only on smooth ground, whereas with the bicycle of Mr. Metzger this feat is rendered not only easy, but absolutely safe on all roads. In the construction of this machine the stem of the steering wheel is supplied with a rearwardly extending steadying bar, having a spring causing it to bear slightly on a support. This pressure is sufficient to hold the wheel steady, but not great enough to interfere with its free motion, so that it yields to every motion of the body. The fork of the front wheel is turned slightly under instead of outward, and the steering wheel is slightly smaller than the other, whereby the guiding of the machine is rendered more easy. The steadying bar also offers a means of steering by the hand in case of any sudden emergency.

Official Report of the Killing.

A Santa Fe section foreman working near that town recently made the following report to the roadmaster: "Mac Whorter's bull struck at the long sibling and was killed. We found him alongside the track, and, as he was not quite dead then, I borrowed a gun and shot him three times, killing him again. Dennis Sullivan then struck him another blow on the head with a pick and finished him. The bull is now dead."—Osage (Mo.) Public Opinion.

How the Human Race Lives.

Of the entire human race it is estimated that 500,000,000 are well clothed—that is, they wear garments of some kind; 250,000,000 habitually go naked; and 700,000,000 only cover parts of their body. Five hundred million live in houses, 700,000,000 in huts and caves, and 250,000,000 have virtually no shelter at all.

SHOP AND RAIL.

BASS COMPANY MAKES A BIG SHIPMENT.

1,600 WHEELS IN TWO DAYS.

EGYPTIAN STATES RAILWAY BUYS STEEL CARS.

PLACES AN ORDER FOR 200.

RAILWAY CONSTRUCTION IS DELAYED.

Tuesday and Wednesday of this week the Bass Foundry and Machine company loaded and shipped 1,600 car wheels to the Pressed Steel Car company, of Pittsburg, which is considered pretty good business for two days. The wheels were inspected by H. L. Bowen, who was sent here by the Pressed Steel Car people for that purpose.

ELECTRICAL PROSPERITY.

"It is surprising," said J. J. Wood, of the Fort Wayne Electric works, "the immense amount of business that is being done in the electrical line. We have been necessarily handicapped while perfecting our new organization, but in spite of all this, we are running our factory full time and have been obliged to add several hundred men to our factory force within the past week or two. The arc lamp business was never better at this season of the year. We have been kept busy filling unsolicited orders from customers who absolutely decline to consider any apparatus other than that for which Fort Wayne has become famous. Only yesterday we received an order for 100 arc lamps from Chicago and our designers are at work on a special lamp for another large order, which we are practically certain of. The instrument business has practically never been interrupted. We are still making the Fort Wayne Duncan wattmeters, and our orders are so numerous we are experiencing some difficulty in securing raw material. In fact, I find this is a common complaint among other manufacturers at present, and it is certainly a positive indication of great revival in business."

We have watched with considerable pride the gradually increasing activity of the Fort Wayne Electric works since the new company was organized, and we are glad to repeat the above conversation with Mr. Wood, which clearly indicates increasing prosperity in the electrical manufacturing business for which Fort Wayne is famous all over the world.

BROKE AN ARM.

Henry Waida, a laborer employed in the Pittsburg lumber yards, fell at 5 o'clock last evening and fractured his right arm at the elbow.

AFFAIRS OF THE MONON.

Another complication as the result of the decision of the supreme court of the United States has come up in the affairs of the Monon. Shortly after the road was placed in the hands of a receiver it was decided to make necessary improvements, and President Thomas loaned the company $200,000, the money to be returned to him from the earnings of the road. The supreme court has decided that this is a diversion of the revenues of the road, and that the unsecured creditors are entitled to that $200,000 as well as to the other assets of the road. Railroad lawyers say it looks very much as if the sale will have to be set aside by the circuit court, as it is practically admitted that in the receivership cases there was an agreement between the stockholders and the bondholders to protect themselves as against unsecured creditors.

MILEAGE OF NEW ROAD.

Revised figures prepared by the Railroad Gazette shows the total mileage of new roads built in the United States in 1898 to be 3,025 miles. These figures do not include second track and sidings. This is an increase of some 400 miles over the preliminary estimates made at the beginning of the year. But even these latest figures are probably too small to represent the entire increase in mileage made in the whole country last year. For the year before the mileage of new roads amounted to 2,109 miles, which was only a little in advance of the records for the previous three years. The present year is expected to show a very substantial gain over 1898. In the west particularly railway construction is booming. The Chicago and Northwestern will have added 220 miles to its system before the end of the year, while the Illinois Central is rushing the completion of its new line between Tara, Io., and Council Bluffs. The Santa Fe, too, has been adding to its mileage out on the Pacific coast. The direct western lines will probably account for 1,000 miles out of the total mileage added to the American railways this year.

MORE CARS FOR EGYPT.

Another big order has been placed with the Pressed Steel Car company, of Pittsburg, by the Egyptian States railway for two more consignments of steel freight cars. It calls for 200 more cars of the same pattern ordered some time ago, and which are now on their way to Jersey City, from whence they will be taken on transports to the land of the Nile. The first order of 100 cars was made up into two trains of fifty cars each.

STEEL RAILS VERY SCARCE.

Western railroads that intended pushing into new territory this year are having their plans interfered with by the makers of steel rails. These big steel plants, it is said, are buried under work and have orders booked which cannot be reached for weeks. Most of them are working overtime, but even then little impression is being made on the big volume ahead of them. Report has it that the supply houses also are buried under orders necessary to keep established lines in running order. Prospects for extensions, therefore, are not considered exceedingly bright.

BREAK IN THE LINE.

The Pittsburg wires were again broken by a tree falling across them at Maples this morning. The linemen hastened to the scene and repaired the line before any serious interruption of business occurred. There was also a little trouble west of the city, three or four polls being bent over so that some of the wires were crossed. This evil was also soon remedied. The lines of all the other railways remained in position, though they worked badly during the prevalance of the storm. A small barn near the railway tracks, a short distance west of the city, was blown down this morning, but there was no stock injured.

SALE OF RAILWAY BONDS.

New York, June 1.—It is announced today that the Pennsylvania Railroad company has sold to Kuhn, Loeb & Co., and Speyer & Co. $8, 200,000 of 3½ per cent. Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis fifty-year gold bonds, to be issued in place of maturing bonds. The new 3½ per cent. bonds are issued under the same mortgage as the existing 4½ per cent. and 4 per cent. bonds of the Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railway company, and are guaranteed by the Pennsylvania company.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

P. E. Bresnihan and Harry Mills, of the Pittsburg machine shop, are off duty because of sickness.

Fireman C. Souder, of the Nickel Plate has gone to the country to spend a week with relatives.

Frank Gerard and John Rupp, of the Pittsburg blacksmith shop, are off duty on account of sickness.

C. Bitner is sick, and L. Schonover has just recovered from a sickness. Both are Nickel Plate brakemen.

Nickel Plate Conductor Ogden Pierce, who had been on the extra list, now has a regular run on the road.

Thomas Shaw, of the Bass works, is sorely afflicted with sciatic rheumatism. He resides on DeWald street.

After a week's absence on account of private business, F. J. Summers resumed his duties in the Pittsburg shops this morning.

J. Junk and J. E. Clark, who had been on the sick list, resumed their respective places in the Pittsburg shops this morning.

J. A. Heuston, traveling freight agent of the Union Pacific, was here yesterday, calling upon shippers and local freight agents.

Gibson Wefel, a pipe fitter at the Pittsburg shops, is papa for the first time, his wife having presented him with a fine baby boy.

Special rates have been authorized for the meeting of the supreme lodge, Ancient Order of United Workmen, at Indianapolis June 10 to 20.

Joseph Panyard, a boilermaker at the Wabash shops, received a telegram calling him to Muncie yesterday. His brother died there Tuesday night.

Henry Dierstein and Dennis Keiley have been employed at the electric works, commencing service there this morning. They were employed there some months ago.

Charles Szink, painter at the Pittsburg shops, has returned from Altoona, Pa., where he was the guest of friends two weeks. Mr. Szink formerly resided in that city.

C. D. Law came down from Chicago this morning and is today attending to some railway business for the Pennsylvania company. He will return to Pittsburg this evening.

Nickel Plate Engineer Charles Titus, who had been off duty two or three weeks on account of the sickness and death of his mother, reported for work yesterday.

The Wabash will not give an excursion to Toledo next Sunday. The excursion train will be placed into service a week from Sunday and continued during the summer months.

Peter Spanley, the Pennsylvania patrolman who had a knee cap fractured six weeks ago, is walking about now and will soon be entirely cured. He has been stopping at Hope hospital since the accident.

Passenger engine 175, of the Nickel Plate, came out of the Stony Island shops yesterday and will go into service between this city and Bellevue. Engineers Con Tracey and Thomas Peters will officiate alternately at the throttle.

Contractor Herman Tapp will complete the masonry for the new iron bridge the Grand Rapids road is putting in at Fountain City this week, and will complete the work on the abutments of the Geneva bridge in about two weeks.

Peter Hohnhausen this morning resumed his old place in the Bass blacksmith shop, after a long absence on account of sickness. He has nearly recovered and expects to continue to improve until his health is as good as it ever was.

The Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago has let the contract for two new buildings, 200x300 feet, as an addition to its shops at Allegheny. The shops at that point have been over-crowded with work, and this step was taken to relieve matters.

Rhinehart Sutterlin yesterday secured a three months' leave of absence from the Bass blacksmith shop, and next Sunday will leave for Germany, where he will spend the vacation with his father, mother and sisters. Mr. Sutterlin expects to resume his place in the shop upon his return to America.

D. E. Cleary bade good-bye to his comrades at the Pittsburg machine shop this morning and immediately took up the duties of a city fireman. If Denny serves the city as faithfully and well as he did the Pennsylvania company, there will be no cause for regret because of his appointment to the responsible position he now assumes.

A collision on the eastern division of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago of a train composed of steel cars, 100,000 pounds capacity, has demonstrated that, unlike the wooden car, they can be so damaged as to make them practically worthless until taken to pieces and the sill straightened. In this wreck three cars were badly used up.

DOING GOOD EVERYWHERE.

A Medical Discovery That Effectually Cures Piles in Every Form.

For many years physicians have experimented in vain, seeking a remedy which would effectually cure piles and other rectal troubles without resorting to a surgical operation. Many remedies were found to give temporary relief, but none could be depended upon to make a lasting, satisfactory cure.

Within a recent period, however, a new remedy, the Pyramid Pile Cure, has been repeatedly tested in hundreds of cases and with highly satisfactory results.

The first effect of the Pyramid Pile Cure is to instantly remove the pain and irritation generally present and from that time on the cure rapidly progresses and before the patient is hardly aware of it he is entirely cured. The remedy seems to act directly on the nerves and blood vessels of the parts affected, as it comes into direct contact with them and sets up a healthy action, which in a perfectly natural way brings the parts to their normal condition.

The remedy does its work without any pain or inconvenience to the sufferer and is justly considered one of the most meritorious discoveries of modern medicine.

Piles is one of the most annoying and often times dangerous diseases with which humanity is afflicted. If neglected it frequently develops into fistula or some equally fatal or incurable trouble, whereas by the timely use of this simple but effective remedy no one need suffer a single day from any form of piles unless they want to.

The Pyramid Pile Cure is perfectly harmless, containing no mineral poisons and is also very reasonable in price, costing but one dollar a package. It is sold in drug stores everywhere. The manufacturers of the remedy are the Pyramid Drug Co., of Marshall, Mich., who have placed this excellent preparation before the public only after giving it thorough and repeated tests in the hands of reputable physicians. The results in hundreds of cases have convinced us that it will not disappoint you.

DECIDES AGAINST TRUSTEE.

JUDGE O'ROURKE HOLDS HE HAS JURISDICTION

In the King-Keegan Case Except as to Personal Property in Trustee's Possession.

In the circuit court this morning Judge O'Rourke rendered his decision in the case of Sarah J. King et al. vs. Hugh G. Keegan, trustee of the J. F. Schell Loan and Investment company. He holds that the circuit court has jurisdiction except as to the personal property which has been placed in the hands of the trustee of the federal court. This means that the state court has authority to issue an injunction against the disposal of anything which may be a part of the realty. It will be necessary for the judge to now determine what is personal property. The attorneys for the trustee claim that the counters are personal property, but admit that the court may hold the vault and plumbing as part of the realty. Judge Colerick, for the plaintiffs, contends that the counters are part of the realty. Judge O'Rourke will probably grant a temporary restraining order this afternoon, but before doing so must rule as to what the personal property of the J. F. Schell Loan and Investment company is.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Thankful words written by Mrs. Ada E. Hart, of Groton, S. D. "Was taken with a bad cold which settled on my lungs; cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles. It has cured me, and thank God, I am saved and now a well and healthy woman." Trial bottles free at Dreier & Bro.'s drug store.
